Special election planned

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Granite City will go to the polls to determine the controversial issue as to whether the office of city street superintendent shall be elective or appointive as a result of City Council action Tuesday night.

A final effort to restore the position to an elective status—thus avoiding the expense of a special election—was blocked with the defeat of an ordinance that would have rescinded the April 28 council action which had changed the street post to appointive status.

The ordinance, brought in by City Attorney George Filcoff at the request of several aldermen supporting an elective office, was defeated by a vote of 8 in favor of a motion to suspend the rules to place the rescinding ordinance on final passage, and five against.

The rules suspension, and consequently the ordinance itself, was declared lost because a minimum of ten votes (two-thirds of the council membership) is required to place a bill on final passage.

Following the vote, Filcoff told the council that he will prepare and bring in for council action the ordinances and documents necessary to call the special election.

A referendum vote on the issue was requested in petitions bearing 8,409 signatures that were presented to the City Council three weeks ago.

The petitions specified Oct. 4 as the preferred date of the election, but Filcoff made no reference to an election date when he told the council he will prepare the necessary election documents.

Presentation of the ordinance to rescind the April 28 council action resulted in virtually no debate since the controversy has been one of almost continuous discussion in previous meetings.

The ordinance was presented by Alderman Roy Poulos as chairman of the Ordinance Committee, with a motion that the rules be suspended to place the bill on final passage.

Voting against the rules suspension were Aldermen Clyde Boyd, Poulos, Earl Baker, Glen Sprankle and Ronald Coleman.

Voting in favor were Aldermen Charles Douglas, Fred

Schuman Jr., Lloyd Bailey, Sam Whitmer, Mrs. Margaret Nunn, Everett Morien, Paul Ray Bowler and Warren Decatur.

The council also received from Filcoff a legal opinion that the results of the special election would be binding on the council.

Some aldermen in earlier meetings had questioned whether the results of an election on such an issue would bind the council to the election result.

Alderman Sam Whitmer asked Filcoff if his opinion meant that "we would have to go along with whatever is decided by the election."

Filcoff replied that it would, adding that "Of course, you could change it again if you wanted."

Portell defends tire buy

A claim before the City Council for payment of $1,094 for tires and tire repairs for the Street Department was questioned, as to bidding procedures during Tuesday night's regular council meeting.

Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald Coleman, noting the expenditure when the regular claim list was presented for approval, asked Street Superintendent Lionel Portell if bids had been called for the tire purchases.

Portell replied that no bids were called.

"Do we have any kind of a contract under which tires are bought?" Coleman asked.

Portell said his department has no such contract but that tires "are bought as they are needed and usually we try to keep some in stock for blowouts or other emergencies."

The bid in question was the P.R. Major Tire Co. for one purchase of eight tires and another purchase of four tires and for "tire repairs." Portell said all of the tires were for

Who is jury target?

(12th in a series on politics in Madison County)

This is the thirteenth article in a series on past, present and future Madison County political trends, and today's topic grand jury activity could prove to be unlucky for someone.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents on July 12 delivered subpoenas for municipal street, sewer and sanitation records, prompting a widespread guessing game as to the potential target or targets.

Records are to be turned over to a federal grand jury in Springfield by 2:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 5.

One subpoena calls for the keeper of the minutes and records for City Council meetings to turn over these related documents involved in council action or aldermanic committee action appropriating city funds for streets, sewers and sanitation and related goods and services.

The other subpoena specifies street department records, documents and files pertaining to purchases of goods or services from commercial or individual vendors of $500 or more.

The latter request includes but is not limited to street and sewer matters involving purchase authorization orders or memoranda, bid documents, internal memoranda, correspondence, invoices, service or purchase contracts, payment requests and option agreements.

Both subpoenas cover the period of Jan. 1, 1970, to the present. No one so far has been able to figure out the significance of that particular starting date.

Some, including Street Supt. Lionel Portell, say the jury's subject may be a controversial sewer repair contract at about the midpoint of the 1970-77 period.

Others say such records other than that of the contract document would be mainly in the possession of the contracting firm rather than the City Council or the street department.

One view is that there is a federal effort to look into prices and bid practices of suppliers of street oil and paving chips.

There has been concern in Midwestern states that there may be too few firms in the road materials business to assure maximum competition.

A formal audit report on sewer work and replacements covering contracted and internal activity has been interpreted by some as being critical of the number or quality of records kept by some street department personnel.

In addition to disallowing certain requests for federal reimbursements for other reasons, the audit includes a notation that the aid applicant (city government) could not provide sufficient documentation.

On and off the record

Would next week be soon enough?

Everybody, as they say, has 24 hours a day to accomplish tasks.

But area 24-hours-a-day air conditioner repair staffs in many cases have had to settle for something less than around-the-clock response, due to the large number of calls for their services.

"We're booked up until Monday," was a typical response, and none of a dozen reached yesterday during the late afternoon and early evening found itself able to send anyone.

Heat and humidity have been entering the high 90s for about two weeks in succession without much let-up, and this has placed a severe strain on cooling units.

Most are basically designed to lower the interior temperature a maximum of 20 degrees below the temperature outdoors.

The Herald was founded in 1879 by James N. Peers and was later owned by a group of Collinsville merchants.

The senior Monroe, who was well known in southern Illinois politics and served as a state senator, bought the paper in 1917.

Under Karl Monroe's leadership, the Herald has won many editorial and other awards.

Monroe was named editor of the year in 1968 by the Illinois Press Association, and Illinois Journalist of the year in 1976 by Northern Illinois University.

Efforts to trim budget

CAPT. JOSEPH NEMETH
Dies Wednesday

Captain Nemeth, 51, dies

Captain Joseph J. Nemeth, 51, a veteran police officer with numerous commendations and honors, died at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday at Jewish Hospital.

St. Louis, after suffering a heart attack eight days ago.

Capt. Nemeth had suffered a previous heart attack. He was released from Jewish Hospital about two weeks prior to re-entering the hospital last week.

Regarded as a dedicated, well-trained professional by his peers, Capt. Nemeth was named the Quad-City Area's most "Outstanding Police Officer of the Year" on May 12, 1971, at the first annual Law and Order banquet to be sponsored by Elks Lodge 1063.

He had attained the rank of captain and had been placed in charge of the Patrol Division, the largest of the Granite City Police Department's three divisions, only 10 weeks ago.

Always active with youth organizations, the veteran officer was a 21-year member (Continued on Page 4)

A tentative budget proposal projecting expenditures of $7,455,211—increased from $7,285,327 over the budget finally adopted a year ago—was presented to members of the Granite City Council Tuesday night in what was described as a "deadline rush" to approve a new 1977-78 appropriation bill before the end of the month.

But the budget figures, prepared by the council's Finance Committee headed by Seventh Ward Alderman Paul Ray Bowler, was described by Mayor Paul Schuler as "way over the limit."

"This figure must be cut by at least $2 million to remain within our anticipated income," the mayor said.

As a result, council members agreed to hold an informal discussion of the budget projections beginning at 7 p.m. today, followed by a special council meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday to adopt the budget measure.

Under state municipal laws, the city must adopt and publish the appropriation bill before midnight July 31.

While salary figures which make up a big part of the budget are reported based on an increase of 6 cent, Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur, chairman of the negotiating committee, said agreements offered last week to workers in the sewage treatment plant and in the street department had been rejected and that a new offer still is under study.

Collinsville Herald sold to Post Corp.

Sale of the Collinsville Herald, a 98-year-old semi-weekly newspaper, to the Post Corporation was announced Tuesday. The price was not disclosed.

The Herald and its associated commercial printing business, Herald Publications, were purchased from the heirs of James O. Monroe Sr., including his son, Karl L. Monroe, who has served as president and editor of the paper for many years.

Post Corporation, a publicly-owned newspaper and broadcasting firm, owns the Press-Record, also a semi-weekly in Madison County. A spokesman said both papers will retain their separate identity and editorial independence.

Monroe will remain as editor of the Herald under Post's ownership, the spokesman said. Paul Halbert, general manager of the Press-Record, will become general manager of the Herald as well.

"We have denied them all for the very good reason that right up to last week, no agreement had been reached."

The sellers are John J. Monroe of Columbia, Md., Karl L. Monroe and Mrs. Ronald (Elizabeth S.) Stevens of Collinsville, children of the late James O. Monroe Sr.; Mrs. Gertrude Monroe of Collinsville; Thomas Wilcox Monroe of Rolling Meadows, Ill.; and Mrs. Dennis (Nancy) Guffey of Greenfield, Ill., widow and children of Thomas W. Monroe.

Pontoon Road detour scheduled

Pontoon Road is expected to be closed to traffic at Franklin Avenue on Monday or Tuesday to permit excavations for replacement of the Franklin Avenue sewer line, Street Superintendent Lionel Portell announced Wednesday.

Portell said the major detour route east of the Pontoon Road barricades will be over Johnson Road, while motorists from the west will reach local destinations via Amos Avenue or Waterman Avenue.

The closing will require from one to two weeks to excavate through Pontoon Road and install new 12-inch sewer line as a replacement for the present 10-inch line, Portell said.

"This is one of our most difficult jobs and when completed will involve laying approximately 800 feet of new sewer line along Franklin Avenue," the street superintendent said, noting that the line is about 14 feet deep and continues down to the water main approach Pontoon Road.

The Franklin Avenue line was among the city's worst sewer breaks, involving sunken areas in several places. Breaks in the line first appeared about two years ago.

Portell said that when the Franklin Avenue line is completed the sewer division of the Street Department will have replaced a total of 4,000 feet of sewer lines since August 1976.

PONTON ROAD CLOSING is expected early next week as this sewer excavation along Franklin Avenue progresses. This view on Tuesday afternoon shows the sewer replacement project at a point about 500 feet south of Pontoon Road, Lionel Portell, city street superintendent, said the ditch must cross Pontoon Road to install a new 12-inch sewer line at a depth of 14 feet. Pontoon will be barricaded on each side of the excavation for one to two weeks, Portell said.

Energy aid phone line

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) has established an energy hotline for use in the special energy assistance program that began yesterday. The hotline telephone number is 666-8747 and it is in operation. Agencies and individuals can use the hotline to obtain information about eligibility qualifications and places to apply for the program. Purpose of the program is to provide fuel payment assistance to low income residents affected by last year's severe winter and the increasing cost of heating energy. Eligible individuals and families can qualify for up to $250 paid on their utility or fuel company bill. "Madison County is to receive a total allotment of $281,666 which must be spent by Aug. 31, 1977. Any remaining funds not spent in the county will revert to the state for use in weatherization activities," EOC Director Ed Schenk commented.

Ready to move Army centers

A St. Louis moving firm has been awarded the contract to move office furniture and equipment from the Federal Mart Building, St. Louis, to the Federal Center by the U.S. Army Area Support Center (SLASC), of Granite City. Prossers Moving and Storage was the apparent low bidder at $3.74 per hundredweight, among the 11 companies submitting bids for the contract. According to Vic D. White, SLASC contract specialist, bids ranged from the low of $3.74 to $11.45 per hundredweight and were received from as far as New York City. The New York bid from Wagner Moving and Storage was the second lowest submitted. The move was precipitated by the disestablishment of the St. Louis based U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command and the U.S. Army Troop Support Command. The disestablishment of the U.S. Army Troop Support and Aviation Readiness Command and the U.S. Army Aviation Research and Development Command. The proposed move will begin Friday and end Sept. 2. Provisions on the contract stipulate the movement of the equipment and supplies from the Mart Building in downtown St. Louis to the Center, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., will be made phase of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. Four-H exhibit at county fair

Madison County 4-Hers are preparing to show everyone that "4-H moves by learning, teaching and growing." This is the theme of an exhibit which will be on display in the dance hall on the Madison County Fairgrounds. The exhibit will be open to public view from 2 to 8 p.m. Thursday, July 20, 1977. There will be something for everyone at the exhibit. For youngsters there will be a coloring contest with prizes. Formal and informal presentations will illustrate such skills and ideas as: repotting houseplants, cake decorating, macrame, yeast breads, nutrition I.Q., recipe ideas for beef and pork; woodworking, and more. Information will be available about all the projects and activities offered in the 4-H program, including how to start a club and how one may join 4-H. Madison County 4-Hers will be on hand to demonstrate skills and answer questions about opportunities in 4-H, the youth program of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

No way to see fireman tests in advance or alter grading—Burch

Following is the text of a letter read at Tuesday night's City Council meeting in Granite City, outlining the views of Weldon Burch, chairman, Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. It was addressed to Earl Baker, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee of the council. The letter follows:

"In a recent issue of the Press-Record there were a number of statements made by Alderman Warren Decatur, concerning the eligibility list for firemen.

"These insinuations were that the board must have given the tests to certain individuals before the official test was given, that preference was probably given to Parente, Becker and Hagnauer due to their parents' involvement in politics, and also that under Mr. Elmer Miller's chairmanship of the board there had been no problems, but now, and I quote, 'Since he no longer is the president, I don't know about the board.'

"To enlighten Mr. Decatur and any other aldermen who might not know, these tests were sent for approximately three weeks before the tests were given.

"The tests were sent to Mr. Elmer Miller and remained in his possession until the day of the test.

"The tests were still sealed the way they were delivered and were opened by Danny Worthen, an applicant taking the test, in full view of a number of other applicants, the day of the test.

"This test had never been given before.

"The applicants are given a sheet of paper with a number on it. They fill this paper out with their name and address.

"They take this number and put it on their test paper. The commissioners pick up their sheet of paper with their name and number and put it in an envelope which is then sealed.

"This envelope was then put under the chief of police office door on Saturday, the day the test was given. On Sunday, the papers were graded by numbers only.

"We sent the list of grades to Captain McManus, who in turn lined up the grades by the numbers we had. There is no way we know whose papers we are grading.

"Secondly, Mr. Parente, Mr. Becker and Mr. Hagnauer were not the three top people on the eligibility list. The statement that we must have put them on the list because of their families' involvement in politics is just not true.

"Mr. Hagnauer's father is involved in politics, but he didn't ask the commissioners for any consideration for his son, and his son was treated as all other applicants were.

"Secondly, Mr. Becker's father was involved in politics approximately two or three years ago, but has been in Pittsburgh since then and has done nothing in politics.

"Third, Mr. Hollis, as far as I know, himself nor his family have ever been involved in politics.

"On the question of the actions of the board under my chairmanship, I can only say to Mr. Decatur, we have the same board as before, and I only have one vote the same as any other board member.

"I think Mr. Decatur's unfounded statements to a luncheon group did a great disservice to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners of Granite City.

"His reckless insinuations damaged not only the board's reputation, but also the reputations of three fine young gentlemen who took the test and earned their positions on the eligibility list on their own—not because they got the test beforehand from us as Mr. Decatur suggested.

"I would suggest to Mr. Decatur that any time he has a doubt about the actions of the board, he come to us and we will do our best to answer any questions he might have.

"Making unfounded and baseless insinuations is not a trait to be proud of in an individual, much less an alderman," Burch concluded.

Alderman Decatur challenged on 'eligibility' remarks

Allegations that remarks he made concerning a Granite City fire department eligibility list were "irresponsible, unfounded and baseless" were leveled at Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur Tuesday night in an unprecedented confrontation on the City Council floor.

Several aldermen and members of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners criticized Decatur for remarks that had been attributed to the alderman during a luncheon club meeting in Madison on July 6.

At that time, while noting that he was not making a direct accusation, Decatur commented that tests by which applicants qualify for appointment to the fire department "must have been shown to them (the applicants) before."

Decatur noted during his remarks that three applicants,

Nelson Hagnauer Jr., son of Hagnauer, Gregory Becker, son of George Becker, a former member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, and Ron Parente, son of Fire Chief Don Parente, headed a list of 51 applicants.

Weldon Burch, chairman of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, in a letter read at the council session Tuesday night by Alderman Earl Baker, chairman of the council's Fire and Water Committee, charged that Parente, Becker and Hagnauer were not the three top people on the eligibility list.

"These people," Burch said, "are Hagnauer, Becker and Hollis."

Burch said that "I think Mr. Decatur's unfounded statements to a luncheon group did a great disservice to the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners of Granite City. His reckless insinuations damaged not only the board's reputation, but also the reputation of three fine young gentlemen who took the test and earned their positions on their own. Not because they got the test beforehand from us as Mr. Decatur suggested."

The full text of Burch's letter is published on Page 3 of this issue.

After Baker read the letter, there was no immediate response.

After a few moments of silence, Alderman Clyde Boyd commented.

"We have members of the board present. We have city council members present, and isn't anyone going to respond to this?"

Several more moments of silence passed and Mayor Paul Schuler asked:

"How about you, Alderman Decatur, do you have anything you want to say?"

Decatur then rose and told the aldermen:

"This is not what it is being made to seem," he noted. "This was not a speech before a luncheon meeting. It was sitting at a table at a meeting with four or five others. One of the men was from the Press-Record."

"I remarked that I thought it was odd that out of 51 applicants for firemen eligibility that three of them placed at the top of the list."

"I never did say that these young men were given test papers in advance. I just said it was odd that three persons from politically-oriented families should receive top grades."

Decatur admitted that he learned Parente was not on the final eligibility list, but noted that "he was on a list that was posted at the fire station."

In making a reference to Decatur's absence from the test, Decatur was challenged by Fire Chief Parente who asked Decatur:

"Are you saying that my son couldn't pass the examination?"

At this point Alderman Charles Douglas took the floor.

"I think this entire procedure is out of order," he said. "I'm bringing in these statements and I think we should go on with the regular order of the Press-Record."

Alderman Sam Whitmer, however, voiced a different opinion.

"I think this is good. There were things said about people who didn't have a chance to give their side of the story, and this is one way for them to give their answers."

"I hope when someone says something about me it will be right here and to my face so I can answer him back."

Norman Sudholt, a member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, was given permission to address the council, as was the fire chief.

Parente's remarks by Alderman Decatur had done considerable harm to the city as well as to the hard members of the fire department.

As the discussion closed, Mayor Schuler told the council that he would like to suggest that we use a little more caution in what we say and what we do. As members of the city government, we are in the public eye. In this case the integrity of three young men and of a number of city officials was challenged on an entirely unsubstantiated information."

which totals $936,593.

The new revenue sharing budget is an increase of only $2,720 over last year's revenue sharing budget, but picks up much of the cost for new equipment, supplies and some salaries that otherwise would have to be charged against the regular operating appropriation.

Total budget figures projected thus far, including revenue sharing expenditures, amounts to $8,362,204.

This compares to last year's total of $7,084,157 in both the regular operating budget and the revenue sharing budget. The revenue sharing funds are available in four different entitlement accounts.

Monday night's special council meeting to adopt the budget will follow a 7 p.m. public hearing on the revenue sharing budget, a procedure requested by the federal government in the use of revenue sharing funds.

The hearing and the special meeting will hold in the Council Chambers on the third floor of the City Hall.

The new appropriation reflects generally increased salary costs throughout and includes a police department budget of $1,056,070 — exceeding the $1 million mark for the first time. Last year's final budget figure for the police department was $940,342.

The budget projects the salary of the chief of police at $21,563, compared with $20,340 last year, while salaries of police total $752,000 in the new budget, compared with a total of $690,548 last year.

Total expenditures projected by the fire department are budgeted at $819,861, compared with $712,197 a year ago. The fire chief's salary also is set at $21,563, up from last year's $20,342.

Street department expenditures are budgeted at $963,553 with the street superintendent's salary set at $17,500 and salaries of department workers, including those of the sewer division, set at a total of $602,164.

The street superintendent's salary is the same as last year because the salary is fixed by council ordinance for the elective term, but the new salaries of department workers is up from $491,830.

Finalized figures in all city departments are expected to be determined in tonight's meeting.

Bowier told the council that his finance committee experienced difficulty in getting budget estimates from department heads, resulting in part in the lateness of budget presentations.

He said he had notified all department heads to submit budgets not later than July 8.

"On July 8 I had only one budget and that was from the police department," he said.

and president for eight years of the governing body of the United Youth Services, an agency supported by the United Way, dedicated to the rehabilitation of problem youth.

He also was a member of the YMCA Teen Town Advisory Board and served on the advisory committee for an Explorer post associated with law enforcement work.

Capt. Nemeth served as a juvenile officer and had taken extensive training courses in Juvenile Law Enforcement and related seminars on Family Counseling and Child Guidance and Youth Officer Education.

He was a past president of the Bellevue Juvenile Officers Association.

Capt. Nemeth had a keen interest in drug abuse problems, especially those concerning young people, and had participated in a comprehensive seminar on narcotics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1967.

He attended subsequent workshops and seminars on drug use and abuse at SIUE, and those conducted by the Illinois State Police.

He was an expert police photographer and achieved the rank of sergeant in 1965 when he took part in a Basic Police Photo course at SIU at Carbondale.

Capt. Nemeth also participated in a bomb disposal course taught at the Granite City Army Installation in 1968, and a Ident-Kit School in Peoria in 1968.

He also attended seminars in bank robbery, investigation, and riot control, and community relations school.

In March of this year, he received a certificate after completing a "Crisis Intervention and Conflict Management" course at Bellevue Area College.

Capt. Nemeth became a policeman May 1, 1952, serving in the Patrol Division until Feb. 1, 1967, when he was assigned to the Detective Division.

He was promoted to sergeant Jan. 1, 1967 and achieved the rank of lieutenant Feb. 5, 1974. He returned to the Patrol Division on March 11 of that year.

On March 29, 1973, he was selected to serve on the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Major Case Squad.

Capt. Nemeth was born and reared in Granite City. He was a member of the United States Marine Corps before joining the local police department.

He had received 15 commendations while a police officer.

In addition to the affiliations already mentioned, Capt. Nemeth was a past president of the Illinois Division, International Association of Police Officers, and a member of the Illinois and Madison County Police Associations, Illinois Benevolent and Protective Police Association and International Association for Identification.

He was a member of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maxine Nemeth; two sons, Joseph and Michael Nemeth, both of Granite City; daughter, Mrs. John (Kathy) Huff of Granite City; two brothers, Dan Nemeth of Houston, Tex., and Donald Nemeth of Troy, Ill.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, 21st and Main Sts., Collinsville.

Interment will be in the St. Elizabeth's Cemetery, Collinsville.

Assault Charge

Officers arrested Richard T. Johnson, 40, of 2214 Iowa St., at 4:10 p.m. Tuesday at his home and charged him with assault (city) for allegedly threatening his wife, Marsalia, during an argument with a 22 caliber revolver, loaded with six hollow point live rounds. John Johnson signed the complaint.

AMSTED DIVIDEND

The AMSTED Industries' board of directors Tuesday in Chicago declared a quarterly dividend of 55 cents per share, payable Sept. 15 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Aug. 19.

street department trucks. "I am under the impression that the bids should be called for purchases such as these if the total cost is over $300," Coleman said.

No part was made to separate the bill from the claim list and it was approved along with the other claims.

Portell said later that the street department has a maximum of $1,500 under which it may make purchases without bidding.

"However," Portell said, "we often are required to make purchases even over this amount without the long delay of advertising for bids. In the case of tires, we need those quickly in most cases, and we pay them after checking prices and getting the best price possible."

GC to 'comply' with subpoenas

Federal subpoenas for Granite City street department records since January 1970 were presented to the City Council during its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Copies of the subpoenas, presented by City Clerk Robert Stevens as communications, brought a motion from Alderman Clyde Boyd that the city comply with the court actions.

The motion was passed unanimously.

"I don't see that we have anything to be afraid of," Mayor Paul Schuler commented.

The subpoenas from the U.S. District Court at Springfield were directed to Stevens and the city street department to produce all records of street department transactions for 1970, or more for presentation to a federal grand jury in Springfield at 2 p.m. Aug. 5.

women, and adult leaders through its program for Cub Scouts (8 through 10-year-olds), Scouts (11 through 15-year-olds) and Explorers (16-year-olds and women 18 through 19 years).

Scouting is considered an educational movement. The purpose of scouting is to promote, through organization, and through cooperation with other agencies, the ability of youth to do things for themselves and others.

The scout scheme is based on the methods involved in educating youth. It is a scheme of placing youths on honor. In addition to requiring them to live up to a standard or code of laws, intended to insure development of character along proper lines, it requires them to study in order to pass certain tests of qualification.

The passing of these various tests is recognized by the award of appropriate badges or medals and insignia. Hence, since its beginning, the BSA has placed emphasis on educating its members.

Since its beginning, scouting has depended upon a strong volunteer staff willing to engage in studies and the training experience relevant to their responsibilities at unit, district and council levels.

The program of the Boy Scouts of America is divided into programs for Cub Scouts, Scouts and Explorers to achieve the organization's charter objective.

The program for youths is a year-round program, but when summer comes, Boy Scouts and Explorers start looking for high adventure.

This summer, over 700 Scouts are attending Camp Sunnen, this council's summer camp. The camp is owned by the council and the 370-acre site is available to all youths, without regard to race, creed or color.

There are also many handicapped persons attending with their units.

This summer, Explorer posts are attending high-adventure experiences that vary from dude ranches, Northwoods canoeing, Disney World and the national capital.

Summer is also a time for Cub Scouts to attend day camp. This four-day experience is offered not only for fun, but to help the Cub Scouts develop a high degree of self-reliance, initiative and resourcefulness. Over 500 Cub Scouts and their leaders attend.

Scouting is provided for all youths, through the cooperation of chartered partners.

At present, the council has units serving the educable mentally handicapped and young women who are interested in nursing as a career, young men interested in construction trades, young men and women who are interested in law enforcement, youths who are engaged in theater, and a large variety of other special interest groupings.

"Partner" organizations include churches, police departments, hospitals, carter locals, PTAs and civic organizations.

Rites for mother of Dean Adams

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at a funeral home in Pleasant Hill, Ill., for Mrs. Ruth L. Adams, 70, of Rockport, Ill., mother of Dean Adams of Granite City.

She died at 11:45 a.m. Monday, July 18, at the Illinois Community Hospital, Pittsfield, Ill.

Mrs. Adams was born in Atlas, Ill., and was a member of the Christian Church.

Her husband, William Clyde Adams, died Sept. 24, 1967.

Survivors include two other sons, Robert Adams, Louisiana, Mo., and Glen Adams, Rockport, Ill.; two brothers, Edgar Richards, Baylis, Ill., and Guy Richards, Pittsfield; one sister, Mrs. Ruby Barton of Pittsfield; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial was in the Miller Cemetery, Atlas, Ill.

Barbershoppers ready to preserve and encourage their art Saturday evening

A variety of championship events will highlight the evening Saturday when the SPEBSQSA visits the Mississippi River Festival, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

All those letters, of course, stand for the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America.

On Saturday at 8:30 p.m. will be the annual visit of the Barbershoppers to the River Festival, this season featuring the Southern Gateway Chorus, the Front Office Four and the Roaring 20s.

The Front Office Four are the 1975 queens of harmony of the Sweet Adelines. In Seattle last year, Dixie Preuss, Carol Nash, Catri Pernert and Vicki Gibson sang their six songs in the International Competition to win the championship, after nearly five years of work.

Their climb to the top started with their regional championship in the Detroit-Lansing area in 1973.

place finish in 1974 in the International contest, and culminated with the big win in 1975.

Since then, they have been touring and displaying their harmonies to crowds at various barbershop get-togethers from coast to coast.

The Southern Gateway Chorus, 60 voices strong, has won a place in the international competition five times and was the championship chorus in 1973. And from that chorus comes the evening's other quartet, the Roaring 20s.

For the last 13 years, the Roaring 20s, Don Gray, Gerry Kelly, Ron Reigler and Jim Gentil, have been bringing their brand of barbershop humor to hundreds of cities throughout the U.S. and Canada, traveling more than a quarter of a million miles to do so. The quartet has competed in the society's competition 37 times, and is currently the fifth-ranked quartet in the nation.

'Dames at Sea' starts tonight at Polish Hall

Performances tonight and Friday evening and a matinee on Sunday are planned by the East Bank Players for their public presentation of "Dames at Sea" at the Polish Hall, 826 Greenwood St., Madison.

Curtain-time tonight and Friday will be at 8:15. Sunday's matinee will commence at 1:15 p.m.

Tickets cost $3 for adults and $2 for students and senior citizens at the door, or $2.50 and $1.50, respectively, in advance.

"Dames at Sea" is a light-hearted look backward to the movie musicals as they were made in the days of the Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers dance team.

The audience is invited to reminisce and stroll down

Among the cast members are Jeanne Fuller, Tony Beerra, Cathy Casey, Gene Casey, Lisa Garcia, Jim Harrington and Jim Fensterman.

Farebox signs list bus cost structure

Blue-and-white signs outlining the Bi-State Development Agency transit fare structure are being posted on every farebox in the system's 900-bus fleet.

Executive Director Robert J. Baer announced today that these signs are an added service to the riding public, particularly to the thousands of new riders attracted to our 160 routes each week as the economics of operating a private automobile make the bus an increasingly attractive alternative," Baer said.

"Most people in our service area realize that they must have the exact fare to ride, but many have questions about the various types of fares available for children, students, elderly persons or the handicapped."

Bi-State adopted the "exact fare" policy in Missouri and Illinois on Dec. 1, 1969.

In 1973, with passage of legislation by the two states authorizing transit opening support, the basic adult regular service fare was reduced from 45 cents to its present level of 25 cents, one of the lowest in any system in the action.

Children (ages five through 12) pay a basic fare of 15 cents.

Transfers cost 10 cents for children and adults.

As part of Bi-State's elderly handicapped program, senior citizens and persons with mental or physical handicaps who possess Bi-State identification cards may ride for 10 cents at all times except during weekday rush hours (6-9 a.m., 4-6 p.m.), when their fare is 15 cents.

Further fare or schedule information may be obtained from Bi-State toll-free at 878-4141 Monday through Friday from 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

ADMITTED AT HOSPITAL Miss Kathleen Peppers, 19, of Edwardsville, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday with injuries sustained in a car accident. She suffered cuts to the chin and tongue.

Madison approves wage boosts

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Madison City Council on the recommendation of its Finance Committee voted Tuesday night to grant all full-time city employees a seven per cent salary increase for the current fiscal year.

Depending on present salaries this would mean raises of between $55.85 to $84.10 per month for city employees.

The action was taken at a special council meeting called primarily for the review of the new budget prior to its adoption at the council's regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 26.

A discussion was held as to what the salary of a probationary patrolman should be and the council decided, on a motion by Third Ward Alderman Ronald Grzywacz, seconded by First Ward Alderman Don Reeves, to pay $100 a month less than that of a regular patrolman.

This was made retroactive to May 1 and affects only one officer.

City Comptroller Al Hudzik distributed to each alderman copies of each department's actual expenditures for the 1976-77 year, with what was budgeted for that year, along with a current estimate of what the new budget should be after several meetings of department heads with the finance committee.

Third Ward Alderman Tom Gordon, finance chairman, said, "The finance committee feels that the recreation director's salary is currently too low and before we get into a discussion on the budget I would like to move the base salary be increased from $946 a month to $990."

The motion carried with several aldermen commenting on the fact they felt the recreation director was doing a fine job.

Gordon then said, "We were unable to meet with the police department representative at 7 p.m. and I would like to call for a 20-minute recess while we discuss some items."

While the finance committee was in its meeting, the council reviewed budget papers and discussed various areas of the budget among themselves.

When the council reconvened, Mayor Mike Sasyk emphasized that the council would need to come up with new ways of financing the city operation, if city services are to be kept up or increased.

Hudzik commented that the council would notice the actual expenditures are lower in most cases than the budget.

He noted that because a certain amount is budgeted, it does not mean it will or should be spent, but the city cannot spend any money that is not budgeted.

Alderman Grzywacz, a member of the finance committee said, "One thing we have been talking about is job classification in the future, rather than across the board increases. We need to re-evaluate our entire system."

The Mayor emphasized that the desk jobs in the police department are for college students, and in the recreation department, the salary is a fixed one and not affected by raises, and when the student leaves college he leaves the job and makes room for someone else.

The council agreed. Chairman Gordon said, "The council and mayor can rest assured that the finance committee will take a more active part in our operations during the coming year."

Questions were raised about the necessity of the entire fire department responding to every fire and the cost.

Mayor Sasyk said, "One good example was a car fire I know of. The car was not worth more than $150 and it cost us $250 when it caught fire. We'd been better off paying the guy and letting it burn."

"I believe the finance committee should meet with the fire department representatives who have asked for a 25 per cent increase in the budget for members and cadets. I don't think we are going to have a 25 per cent increase in fires. I think we should stay with a $42,000 figure."

A total of $40,953 was budgeted last year with $3,943 being spent. The fire department request for this year is $50,000.

The finance committee also is scheduled to meet with the library board in reference to their request for an increase from $28,950 to a $32,000 budget.

Mayor Sasyk said, "Tax money for support of the library is less than $24,000 and the library is running a deficit. Again, the library staff is doing a fine job, but like everything else, if we want to expand services, as in the recreation department, we need to come up with new sources of money."

Second Ward Alderman Frank Durko asked, "This budget calls for 12 policemen and we are far below that number. When are we going to hire additional policemen?"

Sasyk replied, "There seems to be a question on veterans' points if one person on the list got them added to his score. We will be hiring one man next Tuesday and as soon as we hear about one officer on disability we will hire another if he cannot return to active duty."

MADISON BOARD MEETS

The Madison School Board held a special meeting Tuesday to discuss classification and assignment of personnel. The board will hold a regular meeting today at 7:30 p.m. at the board office, 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

$117 cash, $80 in food stamps taken

Mrs. Nettie Glasper, 1305 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 12:45 a.m. Wednesday, a red wallet, containing $117 cash and food stamps worth $80, was stolen from her purse in the living room closet.

A bracelet, necklace and earrings also were missing. The wallet was found empty some distance from the dwelling.

Cahokia Lodge conclave

Induction of Brotherhood members and taking down the tents and equipment of the summer camp operation at Camp Sunnen will be among major activities. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 25, 30, and 31 when the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, will hold its annual summer conclave.

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of Scout honor campers within the Boy Scouts of America.

Based on Indian tradition after a member has been in the Order for no less than 10 months with continued service to others and scouting, he may be advanced to the second stage of membership known as Brotherhood.

Reservations by members for the event are due by Wednesday, July 27, at the Scout Service Center, 2016 Delmar Ave. Cost is $5.50 for Brotherhood candidates, $4.25 for others.

Randy Affolter is lodge chief and John R. Hooks of Madison is lodge lay adviser.

CASH FROM REGISTER

A burglar pried a wood cover nailed over a restroom window to enter the Coachman's Store, 2127 Edwardsville Road, and stole an undetermined amount of cash from the register and a large beer can containing donations to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund, Lowell Dallas reported at 8:25 a.m. Tuesday.

Wash equipment damaged by auto

Mike Turk, an employee of Mascot Car Wash, 2222 Madison Ave., informed police at 10:10 p.m. Monday, a customer drove a late-model brown colored Lincoln into the washing facility and refused to release the steering wheel, causing the vehicle to jump the tracks and strike a blower unit and rinse water pipes.

A total of $1,000 in damage resulted to the equipment.

Turk said the man got out of his car, looked at the damage and then left the scene. He was described as black six feet tall, with short black hair and brown eyes.

Post 113 and Auxiliary installs new officers

Installation ceremonies were conducted during the weekend for the newly elected officers of American Legion Post 113 and Auxiliary at the post home, 1825 State St.

A banquet dinner, prepared by the women of the auxiliary, was served to more than 150 people.

Bill Cauble, master of ceremonies, gave a brief history of the American Legion and installing officer, Ralph Blumhorst presented the new Commander Dave Clark with a gavel.

The retiring Commander Charles Hitchcock, received a standing ovation from the club members for an outstanding year with the post.

Army Lieutenant, Colonel Jeffrey Daniels, stationed in St. Louis with the Aviation Supply office, was the guest speaker. He was accompanied to the social event by his wife, Mrs. Daniels.

Mrs. Lumeta Durbin was the installing officer for the auxiliary. After the ceremonies Mrs. Ruby Cooper, the retiring president and Mrs. Doris Hitchcock, the 1977-78 president, gave brief talks, followed by a dance.

Kiwanis boat races Saturday, Sunday

The waters of Horsehoe Lake will sizzle starting at 1 p.m. Saturday and Sunday as hydroplanes skim the surface at speeds reaching and sometimes exceeding 100 miles per hour. The event is the annual Granite City Evening Kiwanis Club championship hydroplane racing program which will attract top Midwest and national hydro drivers.

The drivers will be competing for points which count toward their national standings.

The boat racers come from all walks of life but will have one universal trait—the ability and willingness to flirt with danger at high speeds in a boat that usually weighs less than the driver and is shorter than 15 feet.

In hydroplane racing the driver must kneel to provide a balance between man and boat, negotiating tight turns while holding on with only his hands to resist the pounding of the waves.

A boat race driver will normally hold the throttle with the left hand and the steering wheel with the right.

Although the racing does not officially start until 1 p.m. both days, the Kiwanians are advising fans to come early, since drivers will be testing their boats and the public opels will be able to "catch all the excitement."

Kiwanian Darrell Lindsey is chairman of the event and is being assisted by Bill Seebold, Sr., Paul Boggs and Kiril Kirchoff, in addition to the other members of the club, plus the wives of the Kiwanians.

BASEBALL PRESSURE. Mitchell Athletic Club hurler Tony Stanjhar applies pressure on Mercer's Dennis Harrington, holding the runner close to first base with timely throws to teammate Hector Sanabria.

The Mercer Mortuary baseball club has only three more doubleheader playing dates, and one makeup contest, remaining on its Illinois inter-city baseball League regular season schedule in its attempt to repeat last year's feat of claiming the league championship.

Wendell Corey, Mercer manager, believes the outlook has been bolstered by the signing of American Legion standout hurler Paul Evans for future use.

The eight participating league teams will all see twinbill action Sunday, each starting at 1 p.m.

Mercer is on the road to play the East Alton Brewers. J&J Liquor takes on Thomas Mortuary at Wilson Park, and the Music Room Vans are to be at Highland-Pierson.

Panama will meet the Mitchell Athletic Club in Mitchell. J&J and the Highland squad will play each other at eight o'clock tonight at Pierson in a makeup game from July 10. The second-half of that twinbill between the two clubs is set for Thursday, July 28, at Pierson.

Corey, whose Mercer team is currently third in the league standings with a 15-6 record, three games behind the leading Vans (18-3) and one in back of second-place Mitchell (16-5), said Evans will join the team upon completion of Tri-City Post 113's participation in District 22 American Legion Baseball League competition.

"That depends on course," added Corey, "on how far the local Legionnaires advance in post-season tournaments."

The manager explained that the signing of Evans this late in the season was necessitated by the loss of three Mercer hurlers and by an injury to another.

Stan Osterbur joined a Gulf State League pro-team, and Steve Ashby and Jerry Deml have been employed in Nebraska.

Regular starter John Scott developed a sore arm, leaving Mercer with only two veteran pitchers — Vic Reznack and Kirk Champion. "Reznack," said the manager, "won 13 games in the 1973 season and had a 5-1 win-loss record before losing this week to Mitchell."

"I consider Champion to be one of the best hurlers in the league today."

Evans was instrumental in Post 113 taking runnerup honors in last year's Legion state finals and pitched GCHS South's team into district play, where the squad lost to Edwardsville High.

During the 1977 Legion regular season, the righthanded hurler posted a 4-0 league record and was 6-1 in overall competition, going a total of 81 innings. He had an earned run average of 0.55 before district playoffs started this week. On Tuesday, he went the distance for Tri-City in the district opening game against Edwardsville's Legionnaires, scattering four hits enroute to blanking the opponents, 6-0.

"Evans has a good fast ball," said Corey, "and his curve ball is about the best found anywhere."

Mercer's pitching staff is backed by a good defense and by awesome batting power, headed by three players who currently lead the league at the plate.

Bob Scott has a .467 batting average, Pat Paterson .440 and Jim Greenwald .419.

Trailing the three top teams in the standings are the Brewers 10-10, Thomas and Highland-Pierson each 7-13, Panama 7-14, and J&J 2-18.

Tri-City Post ousts tough rival in Legion meet, 6-0

Inaugurating North Division District 22 American Legion Baseball League playoffs. Post 113 won 6-0.

While the large gathering urged Manager Conrad "Babe" Champion's local North Division season champions to victory to satisfy their own wishes for revenge, hurler Paul Evans was waging his own personal "vendetta."

Both the fans and Evans sought a win over Edwardsville for the same reason — a 4-3 loss to Edwardsville High School which had eliminated GCHS South from Illinois High School Association district play this spring.

With the exception of a few players, rosters of the two teams are comprised of players who clashed against each other in the high school district game.

Jointly garnering 11 hits were Hennrich, Keith Champion and American Legion season shut-out win over Edwardsville (4-0), Evans gave up only four hits Tuesday and fanned 13 batters enroute to fulfilling his hopes by the 6-0 score.

Champion was equally fired up, shouting instructions to Tri-City runners at third base.

"Don't let the ball go through the infield. Watch for the line drive."

"There's lots of things to think about in a ball game. "Go with a wild pitch," he reminded the players.

When Tom Hennrich belted a single between second and third base in the second frame, Champion called out to John Lakin, "Go hard, go hard!"

Post 113's batters and runners did their job in achieving the win, backed by a defense which committed only one error.

An opening-inning defensive play thwarted a possible scoring threat by Edwardsville when Randy Smith took a sizzling grounder near second base, tagged the bag and then threw the ball to Lakin at first to retire the side.

Jointly garnering 11 hits were Hennrich, Keith Champion and Lakin, two each, and Smith, Evans, Mike Clark, Larry Heagy and Joe Parente.

Hennrich scored three times, stole two bases and batted in a run. Champion was credited with three runs batted in.

Jerry Logan, the Edwardsville hurler who helped eliminate GCHS South in the high school district meet, was tagged with the loss.

The Tri-City players who helped Evans keep his perfect league win-loss record intact (5-0) included:

Champion singled in Hennrich, who had doubled in the opening frame. Hennrich singled after Lakin had singled and Eldon Warfield had walked in the second inning.

Lakin doubled in the third, sending home Clark, who had bunted safely. Champion got an RBI in the fourth following a single by Parente and a fielder's choice on a Hennrich grounder.

The dream of capturing Tri-City Speedway's motorcycle racing championship is about to be realized, according to Alabama's Lance Jones. Belleville's Rob Beary is the current leader.

"If I can win the next two weeks," predicts Jones, "I will wrest the point lead from Beary no matter where he finished in those feature races."

Beary himself supports Jones' views to a degree, agreeing with at least three other regular competitors here that "Lance is the man to beat."

Winner of four American Motorcycle Association-sanctioned main events at Tri-City during this season, Jones, a 17-year-old high school senior, was denied a fifth main event win Tuesday evening.

Nationally-ranked rider Terry Poovey of Texas passed him on the seventh lap of the 10-lap event enroute to victory. Jones was second, Glen Brown third, Beary fourth and Jim R. Rawls of Texas fifth.

Preliminary heat race winners included Jones, Beary, Poovey, Rick Farrington of North Carolina, and Brown.

Beary each also captured semifinals events.

Granite Cityman Marshall Patrick, who was in 15th position in the point standings before Tuesday's program, proved himself to be a true sportsman, loaning his motorcycle to Beary, whose mount had broken down mechanically in pre-race practice sessions.

Farrington, age 18, was making his first appearance ever at Tri-City, and was competing for the first time since suffering a shoulder injury late last year during a race at Springfield, Ill.

Any injury did occur here Tuesday evening, but not to one of the competitors.

Robert "Robin" Lowery, 37, of Brentwood, Mo., a track official and secretary of the Association, sanctioning body of Saturday night stock car racing, is in the intensive care unit of Firm Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, with injuries received when he slid into a retaining guard rail while riding a mini-cycle.

Lowery was first taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for large abrasions to the left side of his forehead and face, and for multiple abrasions to his arms and left thigh and leg.

He also suffered possible internal injuries and a concussion.

Jones, who was edged out of last year's Tri-City point championship by Texan Guy McClure, could only surge into this season's point lead with two main event victories, but could also become the first rider in Tri-City's history to capture six feature races in a single season.

113 edges Highland and tries for title here Friday night

Defending District 22 American Legion Baseball League champion Tri-City edged Highland 6-0 here Tuesday night, playing either Alton or Highland in the 6 o'clock North Division playoff finale.

The double-elimination playoff meet, played at two sites, saw Tri-City down Highland 6-0 here Tuesday night while Highland was at Alton topping the host team 5-1.

Last night, Post 113 defeated Highland 3-2 and Edwardsville lost 4-0 at Alton.

Conrad Champion of the Tri-City Legionnaires exploded with a home run and a double in the second inning, and a second time out would be necessary.

"It more than likely would be played here sometime Saturday," he related.

An annual District 22 Legion all-star game will be played at 7 p.m. Sunday at Cahokia.

Six Granite City players have been selected to participate with the North Division all-star team, playing against a South Division all-star squad.

The six are: Pitchers Eldon Warfield and Paul Evans, catcher Keith Champion, infielders Randy Smith and John Lakin and outfielder Mike Clark.

Yesterday's contest here saw the Highland Legionnaires throw a scare in Tri-City as the visitors went ahead on a run in each of the first and second frames.

113 edges Highland and tries for title here Friday night

"Errors hurt us at first," noted Champion. "Not fielding errors, but pitcher-catcher miscues."

Highland, which fielded with only one error, capitalized on Tri-City's problems in the opening inning for an unearned run.

Eventual losing hurler Barry Noetner gave up only four hits — two each by Larry Heagy and Smith — while his teammates gained seven hits.

Noetner walked 10 Tri-City batters but Post 113 stranded 12 runners on base.

Doug Rains started on the mound. After allowing six hits, he yielded the pitching duties to Lakin in the sixth inning.

Between the two pitchers, they formed one opposing batter. Tri-City's lone error was instrumental in Tri-City getting on the scoreboard in the second frame. Lakin walked, Joe Ravanelli reached base on an error, Hennrich walked and Lakin scored on a fielder's choice grounder to second by Smith.

Tri-City in the fifth frame tied the contest at 2-2 Clark walked, Heagy singled and both stole bases. Warfield blasted the ball to a second baseman, who retired a runner while Clark sailed.

The winning tally was attained in the next frame for Tri-City's Legionnaires. Hennrich walked, also second and was doubled in by Smith.

Post 113 enters the title contest with a 16-5 record and a .257 overall record.

RELAXING MOMENT is enjoyed by Alabama's Lance Jones before dressing in his motorcycle racing gear Tuesday evening to compete on the quarter-mile dirt oval of Tri-City Speedway.

Beary, holder here of a one-lap track record of 15.09 seconds in pre-race qualifying trials for 250cc-class motorcycle, is also the point leader in short-track racing at Santa Fe Speedway near Chicago.

Having won one main event at Tri-City this season and having taken runnerup honors on four occasions and third once, the Belleville rider says, "Jones' credentials are enough to scare most competitors, but I'm going to give him a run for the money."

At the age of 16 last year, Jones, described as a quiet, well-mannered person, made a lasting impact on both the national and local racing scene as a novice rider (professional beginner).

Jones not only placed second in the standings here, but also won the 12-state Atlantic Coast regional title and placed second in his division in a two-and-a-half-mile race at Daytona International Raceway in Florida.

He currently heads the Atlantic Coast point standings once again.

Gus Falter, owner-publisher of Midwest Cyclist tabloid, believes that "Jones is comparable to Kenny Roberts of five years ago."

"His (Jones') riding style," said Falter, "has vaulted him into the national junior division (second-year, professional) point lead now."

Weighing in at 105 pounds, lighter than most of his foes, Jones powers his motorcycle into the corners of Tri-City at full speed. He backs off on the throttle slightly to drift high on the banked corner, and then shoots off the hill like a rocket.

Both Beary, with 130 points and Jones, with 106, agree that they have some tough rivals for the lead in the standings here.

Holding down third position is Poovey with 96 points. Belleville's Greg Thompson is fourth with 70 and Texan Gary Ruesch is fifth with 69.

Jerry Zehnle is second in the standings with 1,000 and Ried now holds down the third spot with 1,890, just 10 points ahead of fourth-place Gary Barker, also of Granite City.

Spaulding of Ponton Beach holds a slim edge over defending track titlist Russ Wallace of Arnold, Mo., in the late model car division standings.

The local driver has 1,885 points and Wallace 1,830. Rounding out the top leaders in that division's standings are Kenny Shrum with 1,825 points, Bill Myers 1,510, Len Gilmeyer 1,270, Jerry Sifford 1,235, C.C. Corbin 1,185, Willie Johnston 990 and Norm Cox 915.

CURB FORMS await filling as workers begin early Wednesday morning the task of pouring more than 400 feet of curbing on the north side of two new lanes being replaced on the Venice approach of the McKinley Bridge. The next phase of construction at the site will be the paving of the lanes which is to begin early next week.

TENNIS COURTS ARE OPENED. Pontoon Beach officials and the managerial staff of the Spartan Health Spa, Highway 111 just south of Highway 162, participate Wednesday morning in a ribbon-cutting ceremony opening two newly installed tennis courts at the rear of the spa. From left, are: Ron Pennell, a member of the spa and tennis enthusiast; John Pasdeck, manager; Ron Shafer, general manager of the complex;

Pam Indermark, assistant manager; Floyd David Moss, village board president; Chief of Police Rosewell Bennett, and Pontoon Beach Patrolman Chet Ballew. A five-year expansion plan for the complex includes a three acre lake with a 20-foot diving tower, an outside Olympic pool, an indoor pool and four tennis and four racquet ball indoor courts. Fifteen acres remain to be developed.

Mrs. Georgia Kramer dies

Mrs. Georgia Kramer, 82, of 1007 Lafayette Court, Collinsville, a former resident of Granite City, died at 8:23 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville, where she had been a patient four days. She had been in ill health for two years and resided at the Pleasant Rest Nursing Home, Collinsville, for seven months. Mrs. Kramer had resided in Granite City since she was 11 years old, and in Collinsville since 1965.

She was a member of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Collinsville, and belonged to the American Legion Post 113 Auxiliary and the Past Presidents Parley, both of Granite City. Her husband, Charles Kramer, died Sept. 15, 1964. Survivors include four daughters, Miss Norma Kramer, of Collinsville, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Herman (Maxine) Miller of New Cumberland, Pa., Mrs. Richard (Mary) Taff of St.

National, Illinois initiatives sought

The Coalition for Political Honesty has announced its active support for a U.S. constitutional amendment that has been introduced in Congress to provide for an initiative process at the national level.

Introduced by Sen. James Abourezk of South Dakota, the national initiative would allow citizens to petition to place issues of their choice on a national referendum ballot every two years.

Patrick Quinn, Coalition spokesman, said, "This marks the beginning of a national campaign to extend citizen voting rights to issues."

"The First Amendment guarantees the right to petition the government for redress of grievances. The national initiative is a practical application of this constitutional right."

provide a meaningful, direct way for citizens to have a voice in federal affairs.

"For the first time, the people would have a recourse when Congress repeatedly fails to address important issues."

subject for the national initiative.

"The Coalition is urging Illinois citizens to write Senators Adlai Stevenson and Charles Percy as well as their congressmen — Congressman Melvin Price here — to ask their support for the national initiative," Quinn said.

Illinois. A subcommittee of the Senate Executive Committee will be conducting hearings on the Illinois initiative this summer.

Quinn said, "The people of our state are far ahead of the politicians when it comes to demanding reform. They need the initiative process to clean up Illinois politics and government."

which would have provided consumer protection, required increased political ethics reforms and established open primaries."

"Year after year, Illinois voters have to watch helplessly as professional lobbyists kill good legislative proposals of benefit to taxpayers and consumers. No wonder Illinois is a national laughingstock for corruption and bad government," the former aide to former Governor Daniel Walker declared.

"It's time to open the door to citizen initiative in our state and let the will of the people be the law of the land."

Quinn said persons interested in helping the national initiative and Illinois initiative campaigns may contact the Coalition for Political Honesty, 23 Madison St., Oak Park 60062 or call (312) 323-4588.

Lutheran 'chaplain' at religious center

India led the most recent addition of the United Campus Ministry at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to make his home in this area. The Rev. Larry Meinzen was born in India to missionary parents, and during service there as a missionary he became interested in ministering on college campuses.

Pastor Meinzen spent his first 12 years of life in India until he was sent to the United States for his high school education. Following a college education at Michigan State University and Concordia Teachers College in River Forest, he and his wife, Martha, returned to India to serve in Kerala State.

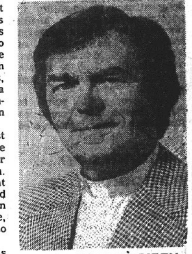

While there, he served as teacher, counselor, missionary, manager of schools and campus minister at three Indian colleges in and around Trivandrum City.

After serving on the Malabar campus for the India Evangelical Lutheran Church, he resigned foreign service and returned home. He has served as pastor in Huntington, Ind., St. Louis and Salt Lake City. While at St. Peter's Lutheran Church in Prairieville, he received his call to serve as full-time Lutheran campus pastor at SIUE.

His interest in campus work was first aroused in the 1950s when Indian students at Kerala University were involved in the turmoil of several Kerala State elections.

"As here in the states during the late '60s and early '70s when campuses were astir with protests and struggles of conscience, so on some campuses of Indian universities students of all persuasions were caught up in the middle of social and political upheavals," Pastor Meinzen explained.

"Now, my special interests are the integration of overseas students into our friendship, personal counseling and mass communications and simply being a Lutheran pastor-friend on campus to students, staff and faculty. I enjoy the fact that I am a member of a team of campus 'chaplains' in the Religious Center."

He and his wife have 10 children. Two are students at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey and four are attending public schools in Edwardsville.

Mrs. Rudiger dies at 72

Mrs. Lillie May (Browning) Rudiger, 72, of 3633 Connecticut St., St. Louis, was taken from her home by ambulance to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where she was pronounced dead upon arrival at 11:30 a.m. Monday.

She was born in New Harmony, Ind., and resided in Belleville prior to moving to St. Louis nine years ago. Survivors include her husband, Charles P. Rudiger; one daughter, Mrs. Stanley (Mary Jane) Kinnard of Cincinnati, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. Marcia Lucido of Granite City; and Mrs. Margie Ann Smith of St. Louis, a stepister, Mrs. Rosie Rose of St. Louis; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday. Details are given in the obituary column.

Government medicine might be hazardous to health—Dr. Wilkins

By GEORGE T. WILKINS Jr., M.D.

President, Illinois State Medical Society
Granite City Resident

Government-controlled national health insurance (NHI) is touted as the answer to rising costs as well as flaws in the health care system, but it may prove to be the nation's number-one health hazard.

The most radical MHI proposals pending in Congress would move the U.S. toward a national health service—similar to Great Britain's—where government would total control over medical care.

DR. GEORGE T. WILKINS JR.

Washington already has demonstrated its inability to administer largescale health programs by the 1976 swine flu fiasco and its handling of Veterans Administration hospitals, the Indian Health Service, Medicare and Medicaid.

NHI proponents point to rising health care costs as justification for increased government control, implying that a tax-financed system would mean "free" medical care. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Government medicine has proven to be the most expensive variety available, but its exorbitant cost is camouflaged as part of an individual's overall tax bill.

Seminars on compensation

Two seminars on workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance will be sponsored by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in mid-August.

The identical day-long sessions will be held Thursday, Aug. 25, in the Chicago Marriott and Wednesday, Aug. 31, in the Holiday Inn Egypt, Springfield.

The seminars will brief employers on new U.I. and W.C. regulations, administrative guidelines and legislation.

A panel of experts will discuss law amendments and their implications, administrative revisions, rulings, decisions, trends and guidelines for more effective handling and control of claims and insurance costs.

Leonard Day, ISCC labor relations manager, said the speakers will be Eugene E. Blair, workers' compensation administrator, Owens-Illinois, Alton, and Thomas K. Gifford, senior partner, Gifford, Detoro and Gifford, Chicago, both members of the State Chamber's workmen's compensation committee. Donald J. Ludovico, staff tax assistant, United States Steel Corp., Chicago, chairman of the State Chamber's unemployment insurance committee; Allen H. Shults, president, James E. Frick, Inc., I-I cost control specialists, St. Louis; and Day.

TRANS-AM GONE
A '74 dark blue Trans Am, owned by Brian David, 2188 Nameoki Road, was stolen from 20th and Adams streets, it was reported at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Lengths of stay average 12-19 days as compared to the U.S. average of approximately seven days.

Even some federal agencies predict dire consequences if government expands its role in health care.

The Congressional Budget Office and the Council on Wage and Price Stability have cautioned that a tax-financed health care system would prove far more inflationary than the present system.

The predictions are particularly significant because government has a history of underestimating costs of health care programs. Medicare expenditures were triple the projected rate in the first year alone.

Similar errors in projecting the cost of compulsory NHI could bankrupt the nation. Government estimates of a "cradle-to-grave" national health program run as high as $2,400 for a family of four.

If a margin of error similar to that in Medicare projections exists, the actual cost of comprehensive coverage could reach $20,000 by the program's tenth year.

More importantly, even if the NHI price tag was affordable, the deterioration in quality and availability of care would exact a high price in health.

Converting to a tax-financed system would remove all direct patient payments, causing a tremendous increase in demand for medical services. However, there would be no corresponding increase in the supply of physicians and health facilities.

The result would be assembly-line medicine and serious shortages—even rationing—of service.

In Great Britain, the public's demand for "free" medical care has proven insatiable, and finite resources have forced more than half a million Britons onto hospital waiting lists.

Some will wait as long as four years for elective surgery and other treatment. Even patients classified as "urgent" must wait months.

The seriousness of the situation was underscored by a British Medical Journal report that one hospital had 39 unconscious patients on an admission waiting list.

The average British doctor has 2,500 patients—more than triple the patient load of his U.S. counterpart.

An American Medical Association study of the British system revealed that approximately 40 per cent of those seeking treatment are not examined in any way. Instead, they merely are given prescriptions or placed on a waiting list.

A similar situation could be expected to develop in this country under a government-controlled system.

Many patients already complain about long waits for physician appointments. With a Rand Corporation study forecasting a 75 per cent jump in physician services if direct patient payments are eliminated, even longer waits could be expected.

Intense demand coupled with limited financial resources also restricts construction of health facilities and development of new technology.

In Great Britain, most hospitals were built prior to the turn of the century, and their condition prompted one National Health Service director to refer to himself as "Britain's biggest slumlord."

Britain's long waiting lists and crumbling facilities are a stark contrast to the U.S., where medical care is readily available and hospitals offer the latest technological equipment.

Unfortunately, the U.S. appears headed down the same path that led to chaos in Great Britain.

A. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that patients have no constitutional right to choose their own doctor when medical care is provided through public funds.

B. The Professional Standards Review Organizations (PSRO) law allows government bureaucrats to force a patient out of the hospital against his physician's advice.

C. The National Health Planning and Resources Development Act gives government officials considerable power to prevent hospitals from supplying certain services.

Increased government control also would cause a corresponding decrease in patient privacy.

Constitutional safeguards against release of confidential medical records already are being fought by government agencies at all levels, according to a report prepared for the National Bureau of Standards.

Further violations of individual rights are inevitable under government medicine.

No citizen should be denied access to adequate medical care because of financial barriers.

However, less than 10 per cent of the population currently lacks basic insurance protection. Coverage for those citizens and protection against the costs of catastrophic illness could be afforded through modifications in the present system.

The U.S. health care system is acknowledged as the finest in the world. Discarding that system for government-controlled medicine would be hazardous to the nation's health.

Hollywood's studio musicians will be featured here Friday

The Concord Jazz Festival tomorrow at 8:30 p.m. at the Mississippi River Festival at SIUE will bring some familiar sounds, as well as names, to the Festival site on the campus.

Featuring the L.A. Four and other jazz artists, the Concord Festival gets its name from its formation as the annual jazz concert in Concord, Calif., and from the jazz record label for which the artists often record.

It has a number of artists who have played music for numerous Hollywood movies and television shows.

Laurindo Almeida, the native Brazilian who "discovered" Bossa Nova and brought it to the U.S., has played guitar for such movies as "The Agony and the Ecstasy," "The Old Man and the Sea" and others, as well as television series like "Wagon Train" and "Bonanza."

Almeida's guitar work has ranged from classical to pure jazz.

The other three members of the L.A. Four all have similar credits.

Drummer Shelly Manne started in the 1940s with Stan-

Kenton's Orchestra and then Woody Herman Band and then moved into Hollywood in the '50s and began a career that has seen film credits on everything from "The Gene Krupa Story" to scoring the television series, "Daktari."

Bud Shank on alto saxophone has hundreds of motion picture credits, including "The Thomas Crown Affair," "Butterflies Are Free," "Play It Again, Sam," "The Sandpiper" and "Summer of '42." His TV credits include "The Odd Couple," "Columbo" and "Cannon." He recorded three pivotal albums in the 50's with Almeida that had impact in the development of Bossa Nova.

Ray Brown has been the bass player for all of Frank Sinatra's specials, an indication of his standing in Hollywood. He has been a winner in Playboy's All-Star poll every year since 1968, a reflection of his standing among his peers.

Considered one of the world's top bass players, he joined Almeida, Shank and Manne in 1974 to form the L.A. Four.

Herb Ellis and Howard Roberts will appear with the L.A. Four at the River Festival along with Plas Johnson with Hank Jones and Ernestine Anderson.

After some years in the 1950s as an accompanist for artists like Ella Fitzgerald and Julie London, Ellis since 1960 has principally been with studio bands, playing for shows like the Steve Allen show and Regis Philbin show, and with the bands for Joey Bishop, Della Reese and Merv Griffin.

Plas Johnson is an artist whose work is much more familiar than his name. He has played in hundreds of records and movies, most notably the stealthy sax solo for Henry Mancini's "Pink Panther."

Together with Roberts to provide Festival-goers with an opportunity to see most of the country's leading studio musicians at one.

"Not only can the artists meet the exacting demands of Hollywood, they have been—for dozens of years each—weaving their own brand of jazz in clubs and concerts around the world," Festival Director Lyle Ward said. He is reminding patrons of the River Festival that alcohol and glass containers are prohibited at the Festival site.

Ticks dangerous

Spring and summer have brought the tickless tick out of hibernation, ready to leap on humans and animals.

This little parasite, once known only to the Western states, has now migrated throughout North America, spreading a serious disease—Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.

The U.S. Center for Disease Control in Atlanta warns that the incidence of the disease has been steadily rising since 1968, with a record 905 cases reported in 1976.

While only a small percentage of ticks carry the disease, the effects are serious. Dr. David Goldfinger, a medical consultant, warns that "symptoms such as fever, severe headaches, chills or muscle aches develop three to 10 days after tick attachment."

"A rash appears, usually on the wrist or ankles, one to three days after the fever has commenced and may spread over the entire body."

While most ticks are found in rural areas, they are also found in urban districts.

Children and pets should be inspected regularly for ticks. If they have been playing in woody or grassy areas, it is advised. If the tick cannot be brushed off or picked off with tweezers, covering it with oil or kerosene might make it back out of the skin.

A caution is to not scratch a tick when dislodging it.

"If you have once been bitten by a tick, and later develop the symptoms, be certain to inform your physician of the fact," says Dr. Goldfinger.

Two arrested after crash

Timothy D. Harris, 23, of Wood River, was arrested and his companion, Katherine Welch, 25, of Granite City, received a traffic citation at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday, following an accident and altercation with police in Memorial Park, opposite St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Officers said they found an auto belonging to Harris over the curb with the motor running at 21st Street and Madison Avenue.

A man attempted to leave the scene and became abusive when stopped by police, saying he had been "beaten up in Madison" and was going to the hospital.

Informed he was in no condition to drive and that an ambulance was enroute to the scene, the man reportedly began screaming and yelling abuse at the officers and was placed under arrest and put into a squad car by force.

In the struggle, one officer re-injured a hand which had been hurt at an earlier time.

Harris was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday for treatment of a laceration below the left eye and a cut inside the upper lip and returned to jail.

Mrs. Welch had pain in the stomach area and was admitted to the hospital for observation.

Although neither the man nor woman reportedly would answer questions posed by the officers, it was determined the vehicle had been traveling north on Madison Avenue when it crossed both lanes of oncoming traffic, mounted the curb and struck a light pole in Memorial Park, police reported.

The auto was owned by Harris, but apparently operated by Mrs. Welch, who was charged with reckless driving. She is to appear for a hearing Aug. 15.

ON DEAN'S LIST AT DEPAUW UNIVERSITY

Lori Lynn Winters, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil O. Winters, 125 Riviera Drive, has earned academic distinction on the dean's list at DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind.

Those named achieved at least 3.5 (A-) or better grade average out of a possible 4.0 (straight A) for the second semester. During the semester, 497 of DePauw's undergraduates—or 23 per cent of the student body—won dean's list distinction. Announcement of the scholastic honors was made by Dr. Robert H. Farber, dean of the private liberal arts college.

Mary Ellen Poole wed in Hawaiian Gardens

Miss Mary Ellen Poole of Aiea, Hawaii, formerly of Granite City, and William G. Burlingame Jr., of Honolulu, exchanged wedding vows on June 18 in ceremonies performed in a natural outdoor setting in the Wahiawa Botanic Garden, Wahiawa.

The Rev. Don Adams, who is associated with the University of Hawaii, officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon service.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Faye Poole, 4949 Vene Ave., and the late Claude Poole. The groom is a son of Air Force Lieutenant Colonel (ret.) and Mrs. William G. Burlingame, 1650 Leha St., Honolulu.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length ivory color gown made in simple classic lines of Kanebo silk with Obi sash, complemented with a jacket of pineapple cotton, accented with Filipino lace.

Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white plumeria with camellia leaves and her Hawaiian lei was of Maile leaves and pikake blossoms.

The groom also wore a Maile lei with pikake flowers.

Miss Toni Culbert of Granite City, served as maid of honor. She selected a floor length fitted dress created in a celery green dress skin satin, worn with a print cape in shades of green and white.

She held a bouquet of white plumeria intermingled with camellia leaves.

Michelle Leigh Love, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. She was dressed in a celery green frock fashioned in a Holly Hobby style and she wore a wrist corsage of pink plumeria and camellia leaves.

Mark Melyan, of Hawaii, attended the groom as best man.

A reception was held in the home of the groom's parents after the ceremony.

The former Miss Poole is a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School and also graduated in 1976 from the University of Missouri, School of Journalism. She is a reporter at Sun Press Newspapers, Kaneohe, Hawaii.

A 1971 graduate of Radford High School, Honolulu, the groom also graduated from U of M School of Journalism. He is chief photographer for the Sun Press newspapers and is a free lance artist and author.

The newly married couple will reside at 98-500 Kouka Loop, 228 Aiea, Hawaii, 96701.

Attending the wedding from Granite City were Mrs. Poole, mother of the bride, Miss Culbert, honor attendant and the flower girl, Michelle Love.

STATE GROUPS HONOR H. D. KARANDJEFF. State Representative Joe E. Luco (left) presents a copy Monday of an Illinois House resolution and Eugene Berghoff (right) awards an Illinois Association of Park Districts citation. The recipient, Henry D. Karandjeff (center), was praised for "outstanding service to parks and recreation in Illinois and to the community."

(Press Record Photo)

State recognition is accorded Karandjeff

Henry D. Karandjeff, veteran Granite City banker, was honored here this week at an informal ceremony in his office.

Eugene Berghoff, executive vice-president, Illinois Association of Park Districts, presented a framed citation "in recognition of outstanding service to parks and recreation in Illinois and to the community."

In addition, State Representative Joe E. Luco of this district presented Karandjeff with a framed copy of a new Illinois House of Representatives resolution commending him for long service in the creation and development of Horseshoe Lake as a state park.

Text of the House resolution follows:

"Henry D. Karandjeff, Granite City, has devoted more than 50 years of dedicated work to have Horseshoe Lake, Madison County, Ill., designated a state park.

"Horseshoe Lake for a great number of years has been one of the most popular recreation areas in Illinois.

"Mr. Karandjeff is a true American story of an immigrant boy who made good.

"Mr. Karandjeff is president and chairman of the board of the American Heritage Bank, and honorary chairman of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, and is active in a great number of community organizations, programs and civic affairs.

"Mr. Karandjeff continues to serve as chairman of the Horseshoe Lake Area Commission.

"There continues to be a great need for the acquisition and improvement of existing park and recreation facilities in Illinois.

"Mr. Karandjeff has called his Horseshoe Lake project his 'labor of love.'

"Whereas he has and will continue to receive the merited gratitude from those who have benefited from his life service in the improvement and expansion of this recreational area, therefore be it

"Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Eightieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we commend Mr. Karandjeff on his many years of faithful service given to the promotion of the Horseshoe Lake State Park."

Norma Koesterer joins sales staff

Brown Realtors Gallery of Homes has announced the addition of Norma Koesterer to the sales staff.

Mrs. Koesterer, formerly an optometric assistant for Dr. Benjamin T. Rose, OD, will be associated with the Collinsville office.

Brown Realtors also has offices in Edwardsville and Collinsville. She is a native of Granite City, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jachino, former owners of Bowland Lanes. She has four children, Connie, Sharon, John and Elaine.

School post to Mrs. Corbitt

Mrs. LaVerna Corbitt, 2710 Denver St., a guidance counselor at Granite City High School South since December 1975, was appointed to the position of Co-Ordinator Guidance and Pupil Personnel Service at South High School by the Granite City Board of Education at its Tuesday night board meeting.

She began her guidance counselor work at Prather Junior High School in September 1963 and later served at Grigsby Junior High School in the same capacity from 1971 to 1975.

Mrs. Corbitt replaces Miss Selma Nelson who retired at the close of the school year.

Board members also agreed to employ 15 teachers for the 1977-78 school year, effective Aug. 24.

Those hired and placed on tenure include:

- Richard, 2510 Parkway Drive, upper intermediate level at John School; Miss Sharon Bloodworth, 2821 North St. health teacher at North High School; Mrs. Carla Burns, Edwardsville, middle primary at Wilson School; Michael Hagopian, 2321 Gary Ave., health teacher at Prather Junior High School and Barry Schroeder, 2722 Center St., upper intermediate teacher at Emerson School.
- Others hired for one year only are Mrs. Evelyn Fedora, 2807 Indiana Ave., counselor at Grigsby Junior High School; Mrs. Jane Franko, 2723 Harvey Place, middle intermediate teacher at Johnson; Miss Kathleen Hagnauer, 2700 Iowa St., lower intermediate teacher at Stallings School; Miss Carol Lichter, St. Louis, Home Economics teacher at South High School; Mrs. Sheila McCauley, 2008 State St., lower intermediate teacher at Stallings.
- Mrs. Susan Mason, 3204 Rodger Ave., lower intermediate teacher at Niedringhaus Ave.; Mrs. Elaine Parish, 76 Maurene Court, lower intermediate teacher at Webster School; Mrs. Patricia Prosser, Collinsville, middle primary teacher at Niedringhaus School; Carol Dumbrosky, 2821 Fortune Drive, and Miss Cheryl Gertsch, 1614 Garfield Ave., both Home Economics teacher at South High School.

Employed as a teachers aide was Mrs. Barbara Jo Young, 4 Parktown West, pre-school Title I.

Designated for extra curricular assignments were Robert Cowan, social studies at North High School; James Davis, seventh and eighth grade baseball at Grigsby Junior High School; Michael Edwards, seventh and eighth grade baseball at Prather Junior High School, and Richard Williams, seventh grade baseball at Coolidge Junior High School.

In preparation for the opening of the 1977-78 school year the board members agreed to hire Henry Gabriel to inspect two portable buildings at Stallings School, which will be used as temporary classrooms.

The survey and inspection is a requirement of the Illinois Office of Education prior to the beginning of each school year, it was announced.

Approval also was granted by the board members to contract with Coordinated Youth Services for an Alternative Education Program service for a total cost of $22,865.

The increased cost of $2,292 over last year's cost of $20,473 was attributed to an additional 65 days to the director's schedule at $31 per day, which provides a year round program with supervision.

The Illinois Office of Education Special Education reimbursement for personnel is expected to amount to $10,000, according to Vasil Efthymiou, administrative assistant pupil personnel.

Another phase of the programs with Coordinated Youth Services, the attendance service contract to cost $16,808, also was approved by the board members.

Opening Institute Day is set for Aug. 24 for the teachers and principals in preparation for the opening of school, and will be held at North High School cafeteria, 4560 Maryville Road. Serving on the planning committee are Nancy Barnett, Barbara Blattner, Dolores Eubanks, Edward Gonia, Michael Hagopian, Owen Humphrey, Mary Moran, Elmer Rouland, Helen Schmisser and Marceline Williams.

B. J. Davis, school superintendent, will deliver the welcoming address at 9 a.m. followed by greetings by Thomas Miosky, president of the Board of Education.

Faculty planning sessions will be held from 9:15 to 10:15 a.m., followed by a 15-minute break. Various sessions are scheduled for 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. with a repeat session to be from 11:20 a.m. to 12 noon.

After lunch, building meetings will be in session from 1:15 p.m. to 3:25 p.m. and identification photos are scheduled in the Vocal Room at South High School until 5:30 p.m.

Seminar for technicians

A day-long seminar for the emergency medical technicians of Regions 4 and 1A will be held from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Aug. 6 in the Belleville Area College Theater.

Topics to be discussed include chest injury management, family during the crisis period, child abuse, eye injuries, evidence of rape and emergency burn care. Participants will be awarded 10 continuing education points toward recertification.

Displays at the seminar will include the Scott Air Force Base medical evaluation helicopter and the State of Illinois allied health helicopter. Displays from at least seven medical suppliers will be featured.

The seminar is co-sponsored by the General Studies and Community Service Division of Belleville Area College, the Belleville Memorial Hospital Trauma Center and the Illinois Department of Public Health. The registration fee of $10 per person includes coffee breaks and lunch, and the deadline is July 25.

Refuses committee post

Alderman Earl Baker of the Sixth Ward refused Tuesday night to accept appointment to a special City Council Committee that would have assisted Mayor Paul Schuler in establishing a policy on issuance of liquor licenses to grocery stores.

As the regular City Council session neared adjournment, Baker asked for the floor. He told the council:

"I have been named on a special committee to study the matter of issuing liquor licenses to grocery stores, along with Aldermen Charles Douglas and Glen Sprinkle. Douglas has been named chairman of the committee.

"Since I believe that Douglas is an opinionated and argumentative person, I don't believe I can accomplish much. I am therefore withdrawing from that committee."

Mayor Paul Schuler asked Baker if he would "give me that in writing."

"Certainly," Baker replied.

Bike ride for Cancer Fund Sunday at 1 p.m.

The third annual "Bike-A-Thon" to aid the American Cancer Society will start at 1 p.m. Sunday from Niedringhaus School, 29th and State Streets.

Registration will commence at noon and the bicyclists will begin the riding course at 1 o'clock sharp, according to Joe Lucido, co-chairman for the 1977 Cancer Crusade.

Sponsor sheets should be obtained in advance of Sunday's Bike-A-Thon and each sponsor listed on the sheet with his or her pledged donations per mile ridden by the participant, Lucido said.

The sheets are available at American Heritage Bank, First Granite City National Bank, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, Nestle Company, Carp's Department store, A. O. Smith Corp., Credit Union Office at Granite City Steel, Tri-Cities Area YMCA, Farm Fresh, 2320 Pontoon Road, Walgreen Drug store, Schermer's Men's store, Reese Drugs, Midtown Pharmacy, Sambo's Restaurant, Reeb's Dairy Center, Clean Craft Cleaners, Ervay's Restaurant and from Cancer Crusade leaders.

Assisting Lucido in arranging the Bike-A-Thon are Mrs. Lily Harriet Horn, Mrs. Mrs. Chaboude, Ron Luebbeck and Mrs. Paul Schuler.

Prizes will be awarded to those collecting the most in donations by means of pledges from friends, relatives and neighbors who act as sponsors, Lucido explained.

Before the ride gets underway, each cyclist will receive a kit containing a check point slip, map of the route, a Bike-A-Thon jacket or shirt cloth patch, bike reflectors and a copy of the State of Illinois' Rules of the Road booklet.

The course for the ride remains the same as in the past two years, Lucido said.

Starting at Niedringhaus School, the cyclists will proceed south on State Street to 18th Street, west on 18th to Benton Street, north on Benton to the 27th Street Parkway, east on 27th Street to State and north on State back to the departure point.

Parties collected by the bike riders are used to continue the American Cancer Society's services to cancer patients, and to support vital research work and educational programs.

"Adults, children and teens are being encouraged to take part in this fun day program while helping to support the services of the society," Lucido said.

Services held for Mrs. Lucy Causey

Funeral services were conducted at a funeral home in Dover, Tenn., for Mrs. Lucy Causey, 49, of Dover, formerly of Granite City.

She had been ill seven years and made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Imogene Hinson, Dover, since 1970.

Mrs. Causey resided in Granite City 20 years. She was a member of the First Nazarene Church, here.

Her husband, Van Causey, died in 1972.

Survivors include four sons, O. T. Causey of Murray, Ky., Paul Causey of Dover, E. C. Causey of Granite City and Robert Causey of Vienna, Ill.; two other daughters, Mrs. Nina Wallace and Mrs. Brenda Withers, both of Granite City; 22 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Burial was in Wofford Cemetery, Dover.

News notes

Federal money to help extend jobs past 13 weeks beyond the 39 weeks available from other programs will end Saturday, affecting 215,000 Illinoisans.

Leon Jaworski will serve as chief of the federal investigation of Korean fund transactions with U.S. legislators. He also led the Watergate executive branch investigation.

Wayne Williams, former GCHS South football coach, will be the 1977 head football coach of Alton High School.

Governor James Thompson is defending his $5,250 campaign gift — from a firm led by a major Illinois horse racing figure — as legal because it was a corporate rather than an individual gift. Appointees of the governor have jurisdiction over racing regulations.

JOANNE EARLS HURT IN PARACHUTE JUMP

E-4 Joanne Earls, NRMCC, is recuperating in the Portsmouth (Va.) Navy Hospital after being hurt July 16 in a parachute jump from a helicopter. Her right leg was broken in several places.

The daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Turner, Fredericktown, Mo., she joined the Navy two years ago after being a lifelong Granite City resident.

Earmarked excise taxes to fund wildlife management?

By JOHN MADSON

Conservation Department Winchester Group — East Alton Oil Corporation

Interest in nongame wildlife is less than ever — and so is the search for money to manage it.

Some advocates of nongame management would tap the money from hunting license sales and excise taxes on sporting arms and ammunition.

But hunters point out that there's little enough money for game management as it is, and feel that new money should be found for nongame wildlife.

Among the possibilities:

1. The state legislature may allocate, from the general fund, an appropriation scaled to a percentage of the annual game and fish funds.

2. An annual appropriation from the general fund may be provided by a small per capita tax based on the number of residents within the state.

3. Sales of special license plates, decals and wildlife stamps.

4. Taxes on specific luxuries or on certain types of outdoor equipment.

The last may be one of the best — an excise tax similar to those on guns, ammunition and fishing tackle.

Consumer goods subject to such a tax might include camera supplies, camping gear, backpacking equipment, binoculars, recreational vehicles and even birdseed.

The Wildlife Management Institute has estimated that such taxes could raise $40 million per year for nongame wildlife. There are, however, some snags.

The National Wildlife Federation recently commented:

"Some hiking groups have argued that a tax on their equipment should fund hiking trails as well as wildlife management. It is unclear to others whether binoculars, another suggested tax item, are used primarily for viewing wildlife or sporting events."

"Cameras may produce as many pictures of family friends as a nongame species, some argue."

"Others note that taxes on many pictures of family friends as a nongame species, some argue."

"Others note that taxes on many pictures of family friends as a nongame species, some argue."

Chouteau audit

A Chouteau township audit which approved all department operations except those of the highway department was received by the Town Board in a regular meeting Monday night.

The audit, prepared by R. C. Scheffel & Co. of Edwardsville, said that because of an apparent lack of internal controls during the 1976-77 fiscal year, it was unable to verify the highway department accounts. The audit approved all other fund operations.

Board members were told that the new town building is nearing completion with landscaping work now under way. Hopefully, the town officials will occupy the new building Aug. 1, Mrs. Patricia Polley, town clerk, said.

IN STRIKE AGREEMENT

Beer distribution in the Quad-City area was resumed this week by local distributors after the Keweenaw Distributing Co. signed an agreement with Teamsters Union Local 525 of Alton. Both Keweenaw and Vessel Distributing firms have now reached agreements.

Deliveries of two brands of beer by East St. Louis distributors still is interrupted, however, as two firms there still have strikes by teamster truck drivers.

X-RAYED AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. Marie Scylcock, 22, of 1925 Rhodes St., Madison, whose auto was struck by a van on Edwardsville Road at 12th Street late Tuesday evening, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital the following morning for pain in the neck area. She had x-rays taken and was released.

TRUCK STOLEN

A 1974 dark green Ford Custom F350 Ranger pickup truck was taken from where it was parked near the residence of the owner, Alton Lemons, April 1, 3900 Guilford Walk, Pontoon Beach. The theft occurred between 10 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. today.

Forage day Aug. 2

By RON CORNWELL,
County Agricultural Advisor
Madison County farmers will have an opportunity to see hay dried with solar heat at Forage
Day on Tuesday, Aug. 2.
The 1977 Forage Day program will be held on the Vernon Vahlkamp farm located one mile west of Carlyle on Rt.

50.
Those attending are to park in the outdoor theater one mile west of the junction of Highway Rt. 127 and Rt. 50. Transportation by hayrack wagon to the farm will be furnished.

Other steps on the program include forage production practices, use of preservatives with square bales, handling bales on pallets, unrolling big bales and rebaling, marketing, and the use of solar heat in drying hay.
The same principles in using solar heat to dry hay can be applied to solar grain drying.

Even those who don't raise forages will want to attend this field day to gather information that can be adapted to solar grain drying.
The ten highest producing herds in the Madison County
Dairy Herd Improvement Association in June were owned by Waldo Keilbach, Eugene Mefferi, Becker Farms, Ray

Bertels, Granada, Marvin
Stille, Harold and Carl
Baumann, Heepke Farms, Inc.,
Elmer Schaack and Son, and Down-A-Lane.
The herd of Waldo Keilbach was high for the month with 2.00 pounds butterfat per cow per day.
The Keilbach herd of 71 cows averaged 51.9 pounds milk per cow per day with an average butterfat test of 3.85.

Corn rootworm beetles can presently be found feeding on corn silks in some areas of Madison County.
The Western corn rootworm beetle was reported officially to the University of Illinois entomology department for the first time this summer as being in Madison County. The insect

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Thurs., July 21, 1977 Page 16

has probably been in the county for the past three or four years.
There are three kinds of corn rootworms that can presently be found in this county — The Southern corn rootworm, the Northern corn rootworm and the Western corn rootworm.

Two other insects are often confused with the Western corn rootworm.
The first one is the striped cucumber beetle, which is a pest of vine crops. The cucumber beetle is a strong flier and may be found anywhere. The second insect is the three-lined potato beetle, which can be found feeding on nettle or other weeds in the cornfield.

You can find the Western corn rootworm by checking the silks of the corn ear, the area where the leaves join the stalk and the tassel area.
The adult rootworm beetles feed on the corn silks and interfere with pollination. A check of the silks will show cut silks.

If the adult beetles average five or more per plant, insecticide treatment can be justified. Apply the insecticide during the early silking period, preferably before 50 per cent of the plants have silked.

There is no benefit from spraying after all plants have silked.
For control, apply one pound malathion, one-half pound of diazinon or one pound of carbaryl (Sevin) active ingredient per acre.

The Northern and Western corn rootworms have one generation a year.
The larvae stage of the rootworm feeds on corn roots in the spring. This type damage will show up as lodging of the corn plant in the fall.

The larvae of the corn root-worm must be controlled with a soil insecticide.

Births, deaths drop in county

Births and deaths in Madison County during June decreased slightly below those of the same month a year ago, but the number of marriages showed a 13 per cent increase for the month, according to a vital statistics report released by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.
The report showed a total of 268 births last month — 126 boys and 142 girls — compared to 289 births in the same month last year — 148 boys and 135 girls.
There were two sets of twins born last month, the same as in June 1976.
A total of 155 deaths in June was only two less than the 157 occurring in June a year ago.
Marriages, however, totaled 343 last month, up from 302 in the same month last year.

Is LOW PRICE the MAIN MEASURE OF A PRESCRIPTION SERVICE?

It's important, of course, but so is the other word up there... service. It means a Pharmacist interested in you. It means convenient hours, compounding, if necessary, complete stocks (including fine quality generics), so you get your prescription promptly. All that, plus savings, is what makes your Walgreen Pharmacy so proud to welcome you!

Miss Jane Moske becomes Mrs. Robert Cartwright

The Third Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding on July 2, of Miss Jane Moske, a daughter of Mrs. Nellie Moske of Granite City, and the late Tony Moske, and Robert Cartwright, a son of Mrs. Eloise Cartwright, Park Forest, Ill., and the late Sidney Cartwright. The Rev. Roy Johnson officiated at the double ring ceremony at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Organist Mrs. Marge Ellsworth accompanied John McGhee, a cousin of the bride. He sang, "My Sweet Lady," "Evergreen" and The Lord's Prayer.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Ted Moske. She wore a gown of candlelight chiffon over peau de soie complemented with a picture hat draped with chiffon. She carried three long stem white roses.

Attending the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaid were Mrs. Linda Aumann and Miss Nancy Sheriff. They wore mint green and pale coral gowns, respectively, and each one held long stem roses.

The groom chose Bill Conroy as his best man, and Jack Lynch as groomsman. Seating the guests were Gary Glasser and Paul Gonzales, a nephew of the groom.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church hall with Miss Laura Moske, a niece of the bride, presiding over the guest book. Later in the evening a dinner party was held at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's mother at Tony's Restaurant.

A Granite City High School graduate, the bride also graduated from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. She is currently teaching school in Washington, D.C. The groom was graduated from Park Forest High School and STCC and he is employed in Washington, D.C.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, the couple will reside in Falls Church, Va.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Rene Gonzales and children.

4th birthday of Kristi Holsinger

A birthday party was given in honor of Kristi Lynn Holsinger's fourth birthday at her home at 3236 Newell Drive, during the weekend, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kent (Faith) Holsinger.

Games played by the guests were a mix-up game, "Coke, Candles and Cops" and "Gone Fishing" where paper clipped water creatures were caught on a line with a magnet attached at the end, followed by the breaking of a Pinata where guests scrambled for candy and favors.

Those attending were Julie, Janet and Jennifer Riden, Maria Ault, Amy Bates, Ami Kelley and Lorry Sykes, Crista and Michel Parkinson, Carla and Barbie Williams, Jill Griffin, Suzanne Strack, Jennifer Harsham, April Polivick and Steven Blumfelder.

Mrs. Holsinger was assisted by Mrs. Dave Polivick and Mrs. William Blumfelder, aunt of the honoree.

Relatives were invited on Sunday, for ice cream and birthday cake made in the shape of a dairy.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Williams of Ava, Mo., maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holsinger of Collinsville paternal grandparents, Mrs. William Eickacher of Granite City paternal great-grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnson of Belleville, Leah Johnson of Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mueller of Granite City, Gayle Holsinger, Barb Godwin, Beth Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. William Blumfelder and Steven, all from St. Louis County.

Record quarterly sales by Amsted

AMSTED Industries on Monday reported sales and income in the three months ended June 30 were the highest ever achieved in any quarter by the firm. Its facilities include the American Steel Foundries plant in Granite City.

Sales were $150,347,000, up $22,063,000, or 17 per cent, from the June quarter of last year. Net income of $13,094,000, or $2.43 per share, was up $3,711,000, or 40 per cent, equal to 69 cents per share.

Joseph B. Lanterman, chairman, and Goff Smith, president, said, "Sales and earnings for all three product categories in the quarter were up due, in part, to energy-related delays in production and shipments in the second fiscal quarter this year."

Net income in the nine months ended June 30 was $25,484,000, or $4.74 per share, down six per cent from the $27,081,000 or $5.05 per share earned in the same period a year ago.

Sales of $394,056,000 in the nine months were $17,765,000, or five per cent above the comparable period last year.

General industrial product sales were up $16,149,000, or 17 per cent, and construction and building product sales were up $4,122,000 or four per cent.

Because of the healthy increase in the third fiscal quarter, railroad product sales were down only $2,506,000, or one per cent, compared to eight per cent at the end of six months.

Lanterman and Smith noted that earnings in the nine months were unfavorably affected by startup costs at four new plants — the Keokuk, Ia., wheel plant, the Claremore, Okla., piston plant, the West Chicago, Ill., brake shoe plant and the coil coating plant in Houston, Tex. Net income, however, was favorable affected by a substantial increase in the investment tax credit.

During the first nine months of fiscal 1977, additions to property amounted to $23,300,000.

Based on present plans, capital expenditures in fiscal 1977 and 1978 combined should total approximately $70,000,000, excluding acquisitions.

The company has successfully completed drilling on two wells for the production of natural gas on sites near the Alliance, O., foundry. A supply of gas from these wells will be available as an additional source of fuel for use in the Alliance plant by this winter.

Accounts receivable at June 30 continued under "good control," with the number of days' sales outstanding about equal to the level last year and down from the beginning of the fiscal year, it was related.

Inventories are up slightly from the beginning of the year and approximately equal to the level a year earlier.

AMSTED's backlog of orders at June 30 amounted to $154,000,000, compared to $139,000,000 a year ago and $127,000,000 at the start of the current fiscal year Oct. 1, 1976.

The executives said that unfilled orders for freight car components continue to represent the largest portion of the backlog. They are about equal to the level a year ago and are up moderately from the beginning of the year and the end of the last quarter.

Approximately 25,000 new cars remain on order with the nation's car builders, compared with 23,000 a year earlier and 26,000 at Sept. 30, 1976.

In addition to steady new freight car buying, the orders for repair components have been strong during the year. Orders for general industrial products are up significantly from last year and the beginning of the current fiscal year, and building products continues to represent the smallest portion of the backlog.

However, orders for these products are up from the levels a year ago and at Sept. 30, 1976.

Lanterman and Smith said that, "based on the continued steady demand for freight car components coupled with the increased backlog of orders for general industrial and construction and building products, earnings in the last fiscal quarter are expected to exceed those in the comparable quarter a year ago."

"However, because of normal vacation shutdowns, income in the final three months should be lower than that achieved in the record quarter just ended."

"Overall, the outlook is for another excellent year for AMSTED."

$88,000 grant for planning

The Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs has awarded an $88,000 comprehensive planning assistance grant to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission, DLGA Director John W. Castle said yesterday.

The money is part of a federal grant made to the state of Illinois by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for support of comprehensive planning activities at the state, regional and local levels.

The 12-month funding, effective July 1, is for the region encompassing Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington Counties.

The grant will enable the planning commission to undertake a wide range of comprehensive planning activities. Programs being funded include: finalizing with citizen participation, a Regional Housing Policies Guide for local governments; continuation of an Industrial Development Program which encompasses industrial site identification and local industrial development assistance.

Providing rural development planning assistance to the metropolitan areas of the region; finalizing a Regional Development Policies Guide for local governments; providing technical and management services to local governments; and coordinating intergovernmental development programs within the region.

Mrs. Chaboude heads GC Crippled Children Society

The annual meeting of the Granite City Society for Crippled Children was held at St. John United Church of Christ on Friday evening. Mrs. Valerie Stevens entertained with dinner music selections and the chairman for the event, Louis Pashoff, welcomed the group. President Gertrude Luebken gave a report summarizing activities of the organization for the past year and the financial status to date. Checks for Shriners Hospitals and their Burns Transportation Fund were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Hogan, who represented the Tri-City Shrine Club. Mrs. Carolyn Smoot and Mrs. Ann Lijewski, on behalf of the Parents' Special Education Organization, expressed thanks to the group for paying the expenses of four children to attend a camp at Little Grass Park and also for the contributions to the Special Olympics Transportation Fund. Robert Walsh, chairman of a "rockathon," presented the "top rock" award to President

Lorene Sadrakula and Vice President Lavelle Stephens of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club. Second place went to President John Winkelmeyer and Vice President Evelyn Gobble of the More the Merrier Senior Citizens Club. A special plaque was presented to the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Margaret Mary Church, represented by Maxine Hoelter, advisor. Entertainment for the evening was furnished by the Eagles. Officers for 1977-1978 are Mrs. Lily Chaboude, president, Barbara Watz, vice-president, William Luebken, secretary, and Mildred Talley, treasurer. Directors are Roger Bowler, Horace Calvo, Glen Chaboude, Faith Christiansen, W. R. Christiansen, Mrs. Fanny Epstein, Arthur Grimm, William F. Kinder, Mrs. Bonnie Lazenby, Evelyn Leeper, Gertrude Luebken, Ron Luebken, A. E. Michel, Mrs. Catherine Michel, Christ Pashoff, Louis Pashoff, Avery Schermer, Mayor Paul Schuler and the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey. Robert H. Thomas and David Whitsell.

TRIAL ON COUNTY DOG REGISTRATION
Betty Lou Bagby, "humane activist" who has been protesting Madison County animal control programs since August 1975 upon the discontinuation of public pet sterilization services, will appear for a jury trial for failing to register her dog in 1977. Trial will be Monday, July 25, at 1 p.m. at the Madison County Courthouse, she said. Failing to pay for dog registration is a misdemeanor subject to a possible fine of $300, she added.

Educational benefits for veterans' families

Administrator of Veterans Affairs Max Cleland warned this week that a large number of women whose husbands died—or suffer total, permanent disability resulting from their military service—will lose their eligibility for certain Veterans Administration benefits if they don't act within 16 months. The VA education benefits provide up to 45 months of schooling to eligible wives and widows and to children between the ages of 18 and 26, Cleland said. But the eligibility of a spouse ends on Nov. 30, 1978—or ten years from the date the veteran was found to have a total and permanent service-connected disability—or ten years from the date of his or her death—whichever is later.

Dependents of missing-in-action and service personnel forcibly detained in line of duty for more than 90 days may also qualify for these benefits, the VA administrator said.

Spouses of service personnel declared missing in action, captured or detained in line of duty are eligible for education benefits until Dec. 24, 1980, or for 10 years from the date the listing was made, whichever is later.

For a spouse intending to take apprenticeship, on-the-job or correspondence training, eligibility is based on the 10-year period or Oct. 24, 1982, whichever is later.

A child's marriage is not a barrier to the education benefits, the VA said, but the remarriage of a spouse ends his or her eligibility unless that marriage is terminated by death or divorce.

Unless the child of a veteran has been accepted by an approved institution for courses leading to a standard college degree, he or she is required to have VA counseling to assist in the selection of an educational goal and program.

Such counseling is available to any eligible child on request. In addition to the types of training listed, spouses may enroll in secondary and correspondence schools, or in schools offering farm cooperative programs.

The VA will provide educational-vocational counseling to spouses upon their request. Any program of education outside the United States may be pursued only at an approved institution of higher learning.

Monthly allowance rates paid under this program are $292 for full-time students, $219 for three-quarter-time students, and $145 for half-time students. Tuition costs only—limited to $252—will be paid to less than half-time students.

Enrollees in full-time cooperative courses which alternate classroom study with on-the-job experience will receive $235 a month.

Eligible students may borrow up to $1,500 per academic year to pursue a college degree course or one leading to a professional or vocational objective which requires at least six months to complete.

Loans are available only to students unable to obtain student loans of the amount required under provisions of the Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended.

Rev. Pierson attending school

Pastor Don Pierson of the Nameoki Presbyterian Church is attending the 1977 Leadership School sponsored by the Synods of Mid-America. The advanced training offered involves new trends in Christian Education, the latest methods of evangelism, programs for young adults, and a wide variety of leadership skills. The Leadership School is held on the campus of Central Missouri State University, Warrensburg, Mo.

The New Wilmington Missionary Conference held on the campus of Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa., will have a delegation from Granite City. Ten high school students and their pastor will be making the trip, including Darryl and Karen Toussaint, Kathy and Bill Flinn, Gene Scroggins, Betty Briggs, Becky Corallius, Andy Pierson, Jeff Brown, and Blenda Watts.

The group will be leaving Thursday, July 28, and return on Saturday, Aug. 6. They will be giving their individual reports to the congregation during the Sunday morning services on Aug. 7, according to the Pastor Pierson.

SUMMER VACATIONISTS. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harper and son Patrick, 3025 Maryville Road, who have returned from a vacation in the Caribbean.

Family vacations in Caribbean

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harper and son, Patrick, of 3025 Maryville Road, have returned from a Caribbean cruise. They went by plane to San Juan, Puerto Rico, where they continued the tour aboard the Carla C ship.

The local family were met in San Juan by a former Marite Corp friend of Mr. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cunningham and their three children from

Lemonade stand at Venice church

An old fashioned summer lemonade stand will be set up Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the grounds of the Venice United Methodist Church, to collect contributions for the St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The event will also feature strolling costumed clowns, who will entertain the patrons, and is planned by Sarah Ratcliff, 8-year old daughter of the pastor, the Rev. John Ratcliff.

Sarah was a former patient at the hospital and has arranged the project in conjunction with a drive for funds at the St. Louis hospital.

Rev. Ratcliff said he will visit

Miss Koesterer shower honoree

Miss Sharon Koesterer, an August bride-elect, was guest of honor at a bridal shower given Sunday afternoon in the Nagy Building, 24th and Benton streets.

Hostesses were the honoree's bridesmaids, Betty Doroughazi, Wanda Simpson, Donna Stew and Elaine Koesterer.

Games were played during the afternoon event followed by the bride-to-be opening her gifts.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to those named and to Mrs. Norma Koesterer, mother of the honoree, and daughter Connie, Anna Nagy, Irene Doroughazi, Brenda Narvez, Evelyn Thompson, Kathy Weissenborn, Orna Milap, Karen and Mary Holder, Emmalou Stearn, Julianne Steward and Robin Gremance.

Miss Koesterer will become the bride of Timothy Swigert on Aug. 6, at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

Shower honors Cindy Warren

A personal bridal shower was given Sunday afternoon for Miss Cindy Warren who will become the bride of Bruce Rotter, on Sept. 9, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Hosting the event were members of the wedding party, Misses Lori Winters, Mary Beatty, Lori Montgomery, Linda Vaughn and JoAnn Warren in the Winters home, 125 Riviera Drive.

Miss Warren was presented with a corsage as she arrived for the party. Decorations were carried out in the wedding colors of peach and mint green. Peach topiary trees trimmed with lily of the valley flowers, flanked the fireplace and a bouquet of peach and green flowers, graced the mantle.

Each guest received a sachet in matching colors as favors and they participated in making rice packets, to be used at the wedding.

Games were directed by the hostesses and prizes awarded to Mrs. Allen Warren, mother of the bride-elect and Miss Karen Plese.

A dessert luncheon was served to those named and to Misses Wanda Diak, Patty Law, Karl Winters, Mrs. Neal Winters and Mrs. Ralph Rotter, mother of the prospective groom.

GC Jr. Service plans picnic

The annual family picnic for members of the Granite City Junior Service Club, to be held in August, was the topic of discussion at a board meeting held in the home of Mrs. Gale McFarland, 3244 Willow Ave.

Mrs. Pam Reed, president, presided and reviewed a social evening for couples held during the weekend at the Golden Rod Show.

Plans were also finalized for workshops to be conducted in the members homes to begin work on bazaar items for the club's annual card party and bazaar.

A fresh fruit dessert was served by the hostess to those named and to Sue Riess, Janet LeGrand, Faith Holsinger, Wilma Edgington, Beverly King and Donna Sprankle.

Next month the club will meet in the home of Mrs. LeGrand.

MRS. WALKENBACH ENTERTAINS CLUB

Mrs. Theresa Walkenbach entertained the Monday Afternoon Club in her home. Following the pinocle games the hostess awarded prizes to Leona Parente, Marie Perry, Pauline Canham.

Also present were Nora Williams, a guest, Marvel Claver, Y Edwards and Myrtle Brown.

Next month the club will meet in the home of Mrs. LeGrand.

GC school taxes retire warrants

The Granite City Board of Education has received $219,518 in tax money from Nick Petrillo, city treasurer, bringing a total of taxes received by the board to $256,166, according to a report by Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, at the board meeting Tuesday night.

Heubner announced that of the total received, $184,479 is for the education fund levy and state statute requires that outstanding tax warrants be repaid with taxes as they are received.

The district had two warrants for $150,000 and $220,000 outstanding. Thus $185,000 of the tax money was used to repay the $150,000, plus interest, and the balance was applied to the other warrant, Heubner explained.

In recommendations presented to the board, Heubner said in lieu of issuing another warrant for $450,000 he suggested that it be issued for $75,000 on July 28, and instead of issuing a larger warrant, an interfund loan of $100,000 be made from the building fund to the education fund today.

For the weeks ending Aug. 5 and 12, the district will need approximately $705,000 dollars.

"Since we do not know when the next tax money will be distributed, I recommend the board authorize the issuance of a maximum of $750,000 in tax anticipation warrants for the period ending Aug. 12," he said. "I would like to recommend that the board authorize these warrants as necessary and in amounts required. These would commence with warrant four."

Heubner noted if tax monies are received prior to that date, the amount of money necessary to be borrowed would be adjusted proportionately. The rates on the warrants would be 4 per cent.

A report also was made during the board session that an arbitration hearing was held July 13 in regard to a union representative election for secretaries, who in May this year decided to withdraw membership in the Building Services Employees Local 98 and organize the School District 9 Secretaries Association.

It was the ruling of the arbitrator that the working agreement with Local 98 in conjunction with secretaries is a valid contract until June 30, 1978, and could be terminated at that date if notice is given by either party prior to Feb. 1, 1978.

The arbitrator will submit a written opinion to both the district and Local 98 within the next month, it was noted.

Linda Miles, spokesman for the 47 secretaries seeking to organize the new union, said the group will pursue its goals in legal and union guidelines.

Although the group no longer will pay union dues, it will be the recipients of any wage increases realized in the present negotiations, but may not vote on a new contract, Mrs. Miles added.

NEW LIEUTENANT. Illinois State Police Sergeant Raymond C. Niepert has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant. Niepert, who serves as aide to Superintendent Lynn Baird, joined the state police in 1957. He served in the Maryville District until 1970, when he was assigned to the training academy. In 1974, Lieut. Niepert was appointed as aide to the superintendent. He and his wife, LaVerne, are the parents of two children and reside in Raymond. He is the son of Wilbert Niepert and the late Mrs. Julia Niepert of Granite City.

Legislative leaders will help Vadalabene celebrate birthday

Congressman Melvin Price, Illinois Senate President Thomas Hynes and Speaker of the House William Redmond will be among the many legislators who will attend a birthday salute dinner July 31 for State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, it was announced this week.

"It makes us proud to know that Senator Sam counts such distinguished leaders among his friends," Lewis Gilbert, honorary chairman of the dinner committee, said.

"Mel Price has represented the needs and hopes of this area in Congress for many years. Now, with him as the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, we can be assured in the knowledge that our defense commitment is guided by a man of understanding, compassion and wisdom."

"Over the years, Senator Sam and Mel Price have had a strong working relationship, most recently exemplified in the grant of over $1 million that was obtained from the federal government to give immediate help to victims of mine subsidence," Gilbert added.

"Tom Hynes was Senator Sam's candidate for Senate president from the very beginning.

"Throughout the long struggle in organizing the Senate, Sam stood fast in his commitment. We are delighted to have Sen. Hynes join us on this occasion."

"During Sam's years in the Illinois House, Bill Redmond and Sam Vadalabene became fast friends."

"When we issued our invitation, Speaker Redmond responded immediately. Senator Sam's party will shine with special luster because Redmond will be with us," Gilbert concluded.

Co-chairmen are Jane Altes, Russ Solomon, John Ubaudi and Charles Losch.

Reservations for the event, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom at SIUE on Sunday, July 31, are still available.

Cheques for $25 per ticket or $250 for a table of ten may be sent to Friends of Senator Sam, 24 Circle Drive, Edwardsville 62025.

Amvets Post 204 installation

Illinois State Commander of Amvets Charles Spitz Jr. of Bartonville, will install the newly-elected Madison Amvets Post 204 officers at 7 p.m. Saturday at the post home, 1425 Iowa St., Madison.

Other state officers attending will include Senior Vice-Commander Kenneth Hall of Mount Vernon; Vice-Commander Phillip C. Kanoles of Buffalo Grove; Vice-Commander John J. Sabol, Armstrong, 15th District Commander Dennis Partisan of Harrisburg; State Service Office Francis Swinnen of Mount Vernon, Mrs. Jackie Petras of Ladies Auxiliary, Post 21, Granite City.

Among the local officials scheduled to attend are Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, State Representatives Joe Lucco, Jim McPike, Everett Steele, and members of the Madison City Council.

Vassil C. Graville will be installed as the new Madison commander. After the installation there will be refreshments and dancing to the music of Dave Hyla's music.

Enrollment will decline further

Declining enrollment will continue to be a problem in Illinois public schools (grades kindergarten - twelfth) during the next five years, according to a new report presented to the State Board of Education.

Enrollment is expected to drop by 11 per cent by 1982, the study, prepared by the Illinois Office of Education, states. This is almost double the number of students lost in enrollment since 1971.

"We will experience in Illinois a student sawtooth effect," said State Superintendent Joseph M. Cronin, "with an increase in grade school population in the 1980s and a decrease in high school enrollment."

The high school population has increased steadily since 1963 but is expected to drop off beginning in the 1977-78 school year.

The continued loss of students is due primarily to a persistent decline in the nation's birthrate. Also contributing to the loss is the migration, out of state, of an estimated 2.9 per cent of the population.

Despite such statistics, there is some good news for educators. The decline in total school enrollment is expected to level off in 1988 and begin a slight increase.

Venice workers get pay raises

A monthly raise of $75 for all regular full-time City of Venice employees and $100 per-month raise for department heads were approved by the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

The summer recreation program for the Venice children has apparently interfered with some of the Silver Bells meetings.

Venice Mayor William Ebersoldt told the group that the city will explore various federal and state senior citizen grants for the project.

He asked that the group prepare a list of some of the facilities it would like in such a building if funds can be obtained.

Mayor Ebersoldt appointed Hosie Johnson as the city's representative on the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (E.O.C.).

In other action, the council adopted an ordinance required by the federal Housing and Urban Development (HUD) department to allow people living in Venice to meet the regulations for the National Flood Insurance program.

The police report for June showed a total of 22 adult arrests and three juvenile arrests, with $617 in fines collected.

Plan Ethnic Days in Madison

Several groups are making plans to participate in the annual Madison Ethnic Days and there is room for more, according to William Gushieff, chairman of the event.

Ethnic days are scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 26, 27 and 28, on the St. Mary's School grounds in Madison.

Civic, fraternal or social groups wishing to participate may contact Chairman Gushieff at 877-5492, or George Amish at 876-0222, for details on participation.

Groups participating include: Madison Fire Department,

Madison Ladies City Organization, Madison Ladies Democratic Club, Madison Junior Service Club, Third Degree Knights of Columbus, St. Mary's Parents Association, Explorer Post 104, Danica Tamburians, Slavic Serenaders, Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church, Amvets Post 204, Khoury League, and Polish Hall.

The event features all types of ethnic foods, dancing, games, arts and crafts and attracts large crowds of visitors.

"Food stands are always welcome and usually prove very successful," Gushieff said. A meeting to review final details will be held with representatives of all participating groups on Thursday, Aug. 18, at the Madison City Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Radiology chief speaks to Rotary

A review of the modern hospital equipment used in St. Elizabeth Hospital was given to the Granite City Rotary Club at its Tuesday noon meeting in the YMCA by Dr. Bernard Loitman.

Dr. Loitman is chief of radiology at the local hospital and was introduced by Rotarian Paul Raczekiewicz, hospital vice-president.

Dr. Loitman's talk was titled computerized tomography. He explained primarily the functions of the new body scanner used for diagnosis at the hospital.

Special recognition was given to Rotarian Ken Evers for his recent election as president of the Illinois Bell Telephone Pioneers organization.

The members were reminded that Tuesday, July 26, District 646 Governor Clinton Roger of Highland, Ill., will pay his official visit and speak to the club.

GC classes to feature basic economic concepts

Basic economic concepts are being introduced to area public school classrooms through WOWEE (World of Work of Economic Education), a program conducted by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

WOWEE, in its second year of operation, has received funding from the Monsanto Fund, according to John Clow, associate professor and director of the program.

"This funding allows WOWEE to continue after the first highly successful year, when it was supported by a grant from the Amoco Corporation," he said.

Clow explained that WOWEE trains school teachers to introduce economic concepts during "teachable moments" in the classroom.

An example Clow uses to illustrate this concept is the children's rhyme, "Little Tommy Tucker signs for his supper." This shows that some people provide a service instead of making a product to get paid. "Often, teachers will not cover economic concepts due to little background in economics," he said. "Target schools for this year's program are Webster Groves, St. Louis and Granite City public schools. Last year's group included teachers from Edwardsville, East Alton-Wood River and Alton.

"The thrust of WOWEE is the development of an economic knowledge and understanding by the teachers," Clow said. "And then the development of teaching materials relevant to how they can integrate these concepts into their curriculum for any grade level."

"In the curriculum of most areas of studies, there are a number of teachable moments for economics."

Approximately 80 teachers will take part in each WOWEE class during the year.

This summer, about 25 teachers have been brought in who are interested in participating in the project for the entire year.

The "core" teachers represent the three districts participating in the 1977-78 program.

Sessions throughout the school year are planned for additional teachers from the school districts.

During this time, the core teachers will try out their new teaching materials, revise the materials and help their colleagues develop their own teaching materials, according to Clow.

"An integral part of the program is an Action Committee for Economic Education comprised of business and educational leaders," Clow said.

Mercantile Trust; Stephen Rinaberger, Landmark Bankshares.

Robert J. Thiemann, Beyer Properties; Robert S. Barrett, Barrett Electrical Supply Co.; John P. Guidry, St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association; William F. Symes, president of the Monsanto Fund; Stanley Howlett, Granite City Steel; and Darryl R. Francis, former president of the Federal Reserve Bank.

"The action committee provides input and works with teachers on developing instructional materials in addition to showing how economic concepts are applied in the real world of the business person, consumer and wage earner," Clow explained.

WOWEE is directed by the S.I.U.E. Office of Economic Education in cooperation with the Missouri Council on Economic Education. For further information on WOWEE, Quad-Cityans may contact John Clow in the School of Business at 692-2734.

GC woman, 24, arson suspect

A charge of arson may be filed against a 24-year-old Granite City woman who walked into police headquarters Monday and told officers she had set fire to her apartment so "someone would talk" to her.

An officer went to the apartment house in the 2000 block of Cleveland Boulevard, saw smoke coming from an upstairs window and went into the building to alert other occupants. No one was found inside.

Firefighters were at the scene about one hour.

The blaze damaged carpeting, an air conditioner, two doors, drapes and couch. Other damage was caused by smoke and water seeping through the floor and into the ceiling of the downstairs apartment.

An estimated $1,000 loss was incurred to the building and $1,000 to contents.

The woman was taken by personnel from the Quad-City Mental Health Clinic to St. Elizabeth Hospital for examination and evaluation. A hold was placed on her for the Granite City Police Department, pending outcome of the medical examination.

PONTON DRIVE AIDS MENTAL HEALTH GROUP Pontoon Beach residents raised $107 in a May drive benefiting the Illinois Association for Mental Health. Bellringer workers collected house-to-house during the month.

Proceeds benefit the non-profit organization, whose members are dedicated to fighting mental illness through education and social action, working on behalf of the emotionally disturbed and their families. Association President Judy Buchanan praised Mrs. Shirley Gaudette, chairman, and the "bellringers" for their efforts.

Scott continues to crack down on improper raising of funds

Attorney General William J. Scott has extended his actions against alleged improper fund-raising to three more Illinois cities.

As was the case in action in Champaign last week, Scott has filed criminal complaints against a circus promoter, Nordmark and Hood Presentations, Inc., Sarasota, Fla., and individual promoters, in Danville, Decatur and Bloomington.

The complaints allege the firm and individual promoters failed to register with the attorney general's office, failed to post a $5,000 bond and failed to file copies of fund-raising contracts with the office, all violations of the Solicitation Act.

The complaints allege that the fund-raisers also violated provisions of the law which call for charitable organizations to receive at least 75 per cent of the proceeds after reasonable expenses, with the promoter getting a legal maximum of 25 per cent.

The Breakfast Sertoma Club of Decatur had contracted with the Nordmark firm for a fund-raising circus for July 28. A warrant is outstanding for an individual promoter, Larry Hogboom.

A warrant also is outstanding for a promoter, Steve Rosellini, in connection with a July 30 fund-raising circus performance on behalf of the Optimist Club of Bloomington. In Danville, the individual promoter, Fred Shank, 28, is free under $2,500 bond, charged with two counts of violating the Solicitation Act. Shank and the Nordmark firm had contracted for a July 26 fund-raising circus performance on behalf of the Police Benevolent and Protection Association of Illinois, Scott alleged.

He said preliminary information indicates that the promoters would retain 50 per

Hennessy will aid Dr. Cronin

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin Monday appointed Leo E. Hennessy of Chicago as assistant superintendent in charge of state recognition and supervision of Illinois schools.

Hennessy, 44, previously was deputy superintendent in the Cook County Education Service Region office.

In his new position, he will administer the program in which all schools are periodically and evaluated to insure compliance with standards for the physical plant, instructional program, support services and staff qualifications.

The department he heads includes a Public School Approval Section and a Non-Public School Approval Section. Dr. Cronin commented, "Hennessy brings to the Illinois Office of Education a wide range of experiences and skills. During a career for more than 20 years, he has served in both public school systems and nonpublic schools, as an administrator as well as a teacher."

"Handling work stoppages, whether as a mediator or a consultant, has been one of his specialties, one which has earned him the confidence of all major educational organizations. This talent will continue to be useful to him in his new position."

One of Hennessy's first major tasks as assistant superintendent will be overseeing the implementation of revised recognition-supervision standards. The State Board of Education is moving toward adoption of new regulations that would be in force during the 1977-78 school year.

Green machine for youngsters

"The Green Machine," a five-day, hands-on exploration into the world of plant life, will be offered to youngsters aged 8-16 p.m. at the Missouri Botanical Garden, 2101 Tower Grove Ave.

Participants will experience tropical plants in the Climatotron, and plants in the Desert House and plants of an entirely different culture in the new Japanese Garden. They will be their hands dirty — intentionally — while learning a few plant skills.

Children aged 10-14 also will be offered an overnight experience in the Climatotron's rain forest environment.

Registration fee for "The Green Machine" is $16, or $14 for children of Garden members. To register or to obtain additional information, Quad-Cityans may contact the Garden's education department at (314) 772-7600.

Girls take items from clothesline

Ralph Craycraft, 2022 Missouri Ave., owner of Craycraft's Tavern, saw three girls grab children's clothing and blue jeans from a clothesline and run down the street with the items at 8 p.m. Monday.

Craycraft said he had sent the three out of the tavern earlier, telling them they were too young to be served.

An officer talked to the mother of one girl and several items were recovered. She agreed to replace some blouses and a pair of jeans which still were missing.

STEEL JOBS HIGHEST SINCE AUGUST 1976

The nation's steel producers employed more persons in May, than in any month since August of last year, new figures showed this week. The domestic industry employed 464,485 persons, including 348,912 hourly workers. Total wages and salaries in May came to $220 million, which boosted the outlay for the first five months of $3,720,000,000.

Total employment costs for hourly employees rose substantially in May — to $12.93 an hour from an average for all of 1976 of $11.74. This covers not only average hourly earnings, but also employment costs for pensions, insurance, Social Security and supplemental unemployment benefits.

Builders again achieve national safety acclaim

The Southern Illinois Builders Association has been selected as a recipient of the 1977 National Safety Council Association award for employee safety.

The SIBA is one of only six associations in the United States to receive the award this year.

It is the fourth consecutive year that the SIBA has been so honored.

The judging was made in late June in Washington, D.C. The panel of judges included representatives from the American Mutual Insurance Alliance, American Society of Association Executives, Chamber of Commerce of the U.S., National Industrial Council and Salt Institute. Judging is considered selective and achievement of the award difficult.

It symbolizes a combined achievement of both the association staff and SIBA members, who participate in the association's safety program. The participants are recognized by the National Safety Council for their contribution to safety and health. The SIBA, headquartered in Belleville with a branch office in Marion, has a membership of more than 600 firms in 39 Southern Illinois counties.

Carol Schmidt nursing degree

Carol A. Schmidt, 2709B Center St., Granite City, received a bachelor of science degree at the spring graduation of Southern University's School of Nursing.

The School of Nursing's graduates included recipients of certificates of advanced graduate study, and of bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in eight nursing fields. Miss Schmidt majored in basic nursing.

MADISON COUNTY ZONING ORDINANCE BOARD OF APPEALS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the above named Board of Appeals, established under the Madison County Zoning Ordinance, will hold a Public Hearing on the 4th day of August, 1977, at the time and place as noted below for the purpose of hearing testimony for and/or against the following proposed change in the above named Ordinance.

At 10:35 A.M. on the petition of Louis Votava, Owner of Record, requesting a Special Use Permit as per Article II Section 211.0 Subsection 211.6 of the Madison County Zoning Ordinance, 1975, in order to place a mobile home, being a single wide on this property for our permanent residence. This is located in a B-3 Highway Business District in Nameoki Township. This property is located along SAR No. 35 adjacent to Holiday Mobile Home Park.

A triangular tract of land in the Northeast corner of the Southeast Quarter of Section 24, Township 3 North, Range 9 West of the Third Principal Meridian, described as follows:

Beginning at a point which is 150 feet, measured at right angles, North of the center line of the highway known as Township Highway 35, Section 24-3-15 and 100 feet, measured at right angles, West of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District;

Thence from said point of beginning, westerly parallel to and 150 feet, measured at right angles, North of the center line of said highway to an intersection with the North line of said Southeast Quarter of Section 24-3-9; Thence East along the North line of said Southeast Quarter of Section 24-3-9 to a point 100 feet, measured at right angles, West of the West right of way line of said Sanitary District;

Thence Southwesterly parallel to and 100 feet, measured at right angles, West of the West right of Way line of said Sanitary District, to the point of beginning.

Containing 2.2 acres more or less.

is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Hillard, Fulton, Mo. Cooke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Cooke, 3706 Ruth Drive, Granite City.

Cooke trying to improve recycling of mined areas

The hot barren hills of abandoned strip mines aren't the best place to spend a summer's day. For two Westminster students, however, these hills—which offer little respite from the soaring July temperatures—have become a summer project in ecology.

Paul Cooke of Granite City and Alan Hillard of Fulton, Mo., are taking part in an 11-week National Science Foundation participation program.

Together, they are performing research on the effect of land contours of strip-mined lands on revegetation.

This project is part of a larger strip mining program being conducted through the University of Missouri and the NSF.

According to the project director, Dr. James Carrel, "the project hopes to train people in science in areas relevant to national needs."

"Too often," Carrel adds, "trained people aren't available when a problem arises, and by the time they are trained the need isn't there."

"With the increased interest in strip mining for more fuel, Hillard's and Cooke's project is relevant to today as well as the future."

"Strip mining is a novel situation in that the land has been greatly disturbed," Cooke said. "We wanted to show that the vegetation of the land varies according to a set pattern. This has already been proven about forests and fields."

To do this, he and Hillard had to spend several weeks in the field gathering information.

They divided the hills of abandoned mines into quadrants and, from representative areas, determined the slope of the hill, the direction it faced and the acidity of the soil.

They also attempted to take an average of the amount of vegetation.

This raw data will be graphed and put on a computer to determine if their theory, that by changing direction or a slope of a hillside it will revegetate faster, is correct.

"The entire project is to understand the whys and wherefores of land reclamation," Dr. Carrel explained.

"Mine legislation now states land has to be flat but doesn't state any maximum or minimum level. What we hope to say is these slopes, of facing south, are difficult to grow plants on."

"Mining companies could change the contour a bit when they are through with the land, based on the information we hope to supply."

Cooke and Hillard are interested in the methods of their research as well as the subject.

"This really clarifies my ideas of what research consists of," Cooke commented.

"At Westminster, our ecology class taught the techniques. But because of time, we couldn't get into the level of research we are doing now."

"The project has been interesting and has helped orientate us both toward graduate school," Hillard added.

Renovation Bid Delay

The General Services Administration has announced that the date for receipt of proposals from architect-engineer firms for the initial phase of renovation and restoration of the U.S. Customhouse, St. Louis, has been changed from July 22 to Aug. 15.

H. D. Harvell, GSA regional administrator, said the additional time is being provided because of the considerable interest in the project and to allow each firm adequate time to prepare its response.

Rolland Thraur dies at 69

A former 54-year resident of Granite City, Rolland Thraur, 69, of 192 S. Marang St., Los Angeles, Calif., died July 11, at a Pasadena (Calif.) Convalescent Home.

He was born in Ellis Grove, Ill., and was a member of the Methodist faith.

Survivors include three brothers, Hubert, Harry and Homer Thraur, all of Granite City, and one sister, Mrs. Jack (Margaret) Lowden of Indianapolis, Ind.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

HONOR STUDENT AT GREENVILLE COLLEGE

The second semester honor roll of the 1976-77 year has been announced by the Greenville (Ill.) College office of academic affairs. The listing includes Kathy Shemwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shemwell, 2500 Angela Drive. The semester concluded her junior year.

A physical education and business administration major, she has maintained an honor listing for a minimum of three consecutive semesters and holds college scholar status. Juniors and seniors must obtain a semester grade point average of 3.3 of a possible 4 to place on the dean's list.

Booth named engineer of Bi-State Agency

The Bi-State Development Agency has appointed John D. Booth director of engineering and facilities management, a newly-created position, it was announced today.

Booth had been the agency's port coordinator since 1975. His new post became effective July 1.

He will serve as Bi-State's chief engineer, with responsibility for coordinating the design, engineering, construction and maintenance of existing and planned facilities for the agency. He will oversee a variety of projects, including Bi-State's recently announced relocation of its executive and administrative offices to the Laclede's Landing area.

Booth also will be involved in the proposed People-Mover, a futuristic $43 million transit system operating over 3.7 miles of surface, elevated and sub-surface route in the downtown St. Louis area.

He will act as coordinator for a planned transit garage rehabilitation program which will involve the renovation of Bi-State's six existing bus stations and the construction of two new facilities, and he will take part in expansion planned for Bi-State Parks Airport, Cahokia, Ill., owned and operated by the agency.

Booth joined Bi-State after the agency was designated regional port coordinator in the metropolitan St. Louis area on May 1, 1975, through an agreement with the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

GC asks explanation of sludge unit deficiency

Granite City Council members decided Tuesday night to request representatives of an engineering firm and a contracting company to appear before them to explain why a $1.75 million incinerator plant at the secondary sewage treatment plant will not function properly.

The aldermen agreed to a suggestion by Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward that the council invite representatives of the M.W. Architects & Engineers of St. Louis and the contracting firm of G.L. Tarlton Co. to the council's next meeting to discuss the problem.

Decatur's suggestion followed presentation of a resolution authorizing a loan of $14,150 from the general fund sales tax account to the sewage treatment plant construction fund.

The loan is needed, the resolution said, to help pay May 31 billing by the Tarlton firm and a June 7 billing by the M.W. engineering firm. Without the loan, there was insufficient money in the treatment plant construction fund to meet the bills, the resolution said.

At the same time, aldermen were informed that the sludge-burning incinerator at the treatment plant has been shut down because of high fuel oil costs, running as high as four times the expected amount.

Paul Ray Bowler, chairman of the Finance Committee, said he also will meet with supervisory officials at the treatment plant to review estimates of fuel oil costs to be inserted in the new 1977-78 budget which must be adopted by the city by the end of this month.

Bowler said he believed the present budget figure of $209,000 for fuel oil costs is extremely high, but that earlier estimates of $40,000 were far too low.

Plant officials said that while part of the increase in operating costs has been due to substantial jumps in fuel oil costs during the past year and a half, since the incinerator began operating, part of the problem is due to the texture of sludge now being received at the treatment plant.

The incinerator was designed to start the sludge burning, with the fire becoming self-perpetuating and burning itself out. Since closing of the Corn Sweeteners Plant here, however, most sludge has low volatile solids which doesn't burn well unless large quantities of oil are added.

Sludge from the treatment plant now is being hauled to the Mal landfill near the old Chain of Rocks Bridge, which is operated by SCA Services, Inc. There is no cost for the hauling under the city's new contract for garbage disposal approved two weeks ago, which included arrangements for carrying the sludge to the dump.

M.W. engineers designed the incinerator which was built by the Tarlton firm as general contractor. Part of the work was sub-contracted to Enviro-Tech, Inc.

River shore dikes here to be repaired

Damages to river stone dike structures caused by ice jams last winter are scheduled for repair under two contracts to be awarded by the St. Louis District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The major work calls for a contract to place 140,000 tons of graded stone to make minor repairs to dikes in the river shore areas in St. Charles, Pike and Ralls Counties in Missouri and Calhoun, Madison and Pike Counties in Illinois.

The apparent low bidder for three firms seeking the work is Lahr Bros., Inc. of Columbia, Ill., with a bid of $669,400. The work is expected to take one year to complete.

Under a second bid for work in Pike County, Ill., Patton-Tully Transportation Co. of Memphis, Tenn., was the apparent low bidder for a contract to place 18,000 tons of stone in dike work over a three-month period. Patton-Tully's bid was the lowest of five companies.

Several contracts for repair of dikes in other river areas are already in force. William O. Cauble, chief of the Corps' Procurement and Supply Division, reports.

Stone dikes are utilized to limit the river's flow into a narrow area and to increase the velocity, thereby aiding in maintaining a nine-foot-deep navigation channel and reducing the necessity for an intensive dredging program.

David Greathouse dies

David C. Greathouse, 68, of 2315 Edison Ave., a lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, died at 2 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He had been ill and hospitalized seven days. Mr. Greathouse was born in Venice. He was employed for 25 years as a teamster for the Seebold Trucking Co.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Minnie Greathouse; three sons, Terry, Douglas and David Lee Greathouse, all of Granite City; one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Ellie) Vleck of Roxana; two brothers, Frank and Walter "Shang" Greathouse, both of Granite City; three grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

SCOUT PAPER DRIVE

"THE JUNGLE" RETREATS. While still not quite matching the look of a well-established park, the former "hobo jungle" has been cleared and is nearly ready to be utilized for more constructive purposes. The work was carried out cooperatively, on a voluntary basis.

DESPITE THE SUMMER HEAT many volunteers help to achieve the goal of eliminating a "hobo jungle" in which tall weeds have been creating hazards and law enforcement problems. Mechanized equipment proved to be necessary, along with the cutting that could be done by hand. Alderman Warren Decatur took the picture.

Volunteers complete 'Hobo Jungle' cleanup

Volunteers turned out in force during the weekend to clear the eight-acre tract at the end of Wilson Park Lane and Princeton Drive known as a "hobo jungle" which police said was used as a hideout by youngsters to smoke marijuana and drink beer.

Working on two Saturday's, approximately 30 volunteers and a number of youths living in the neighborhood cleared away small trees and high weeds, using donated equipment that included a brush tractor and a bulldozer.

The large amount of weeds, brush and small trees cut down and hauled away left an area clean enough that some neighbors suggested using it as a park for barbecues and playgrounds.

The area had been used as a gathering place for groups of youths, some of whom smoked marijuana, sniffed glue and drank beer at "parties" held in the heavily-weeded area.

Police said it was difficult to find anyone when called to a party at the hobo jungle. The cleanup was coordinated by Barry and Dorothy Rideout. Hot dogs and cold drinks were served free to the participants.

Soda and ice were donated by Scheve's Confectionery and C. D. Peters donated the use of a bulldozer which handled a big part of the cleanup work.

The first Saturday, July 9, the group ran into a number of problems, including equipment failures, and discontinued the job at noon. Last Saturday, however, the full complement of volunteers worked from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. to finish the job.

Those who participated in the cleanup included Barry and Dorothy Rideout, Bud and Sheila Parks, Dennis and Donna Smith, Lionell Portell, Warren Decatur, Dan Partney, Steve Konkovich, Glen Romine, Michael Locher, George Graves, Ron Bridick, Neal Bailey and a group of youths from the neighborhood.

Workers reported the area was littered with beer cans and plastic bags of the type that might be used for glue sniffing, and that in several places they found improvised "bunks" and pallets.

STEAL AIR CONDITIONER Ted Johannpeter, 2209 Cleveland Blvd., returned from vacation Tuesday and found an air conditioning unit had been stolen from the rear porch of his house.

Alert neighbor aids in arrest

The alertness of a concerned neighbor who saw two men crawl through a window and called police, but also noted the Missouri license number on a vehicle parked nearby, resulted in the arrest Tuesday of a St. Louis man.

Although the burglars had gone when police arrived at the home of Carolyn Cernkovich, 2400 State St., they radioed a description of the parked auto and its license number.

The vehicle was stopped by officers of St. Louis Police District 9, and a man driving the car was held for Granite City Police.

Det. Sgt. Don Knight said he accepted custody of Edward Caldwell, 32, of 2836 Lafayette Ave., St. Louis, Wednesday morning in St. Louis after Caldwell waived extradition. Caldwell is charged with burglary and is being held in the Granite City jail.

Found in the vehicle at the time it was halted in St. Louis were a Panasonic AM-FM receiver, worth $1,500, cassette deck, $350, turntable equipment, $750, cartridge player-recorder, $300, and a small cartridge player, $130.

Full agenda ok'd for GC council meet

An ordinance that will permit the Granite City Council to conduct a full agenda of business on its third meeting of the month was adopted by a unanimous vote Tuesday night.

The ordinance, which amends the council's previous regulations, permits council action on committee reports as well as a full line of business—replacing a previous rule that limited operation of the council to consideration of communications only in the third meeting of the month.

The council meets regularly at 8 p.m. on the first, third and fourth Tuesdays of the month, with the third meeting falling on the fourth Tuesday.

Council business was interrupted on two occasions—May 24 and June 28—on motions by First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas who contended that business conducted on that night would be subject to legal challenge.

The amendment was brought before the council at the request of Alderman Sam Whitmer who said the council needed three "full meetings" to complete its business. Whitmer noted that the council had operated without difficulty until the meeting status was challenged by Douglas.

After the council approved the measure, Whitmer remarked that "I hope this ends all confusion and we can now get down to business in our third meeting as well as the others."

BURT divers recover body at 'shale pit'

Members of the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT) of Granite City recovered the body of a 17-year-old Florissant, Mo., youth Monday from the "shale pit" near Edwardsville Junior High School.

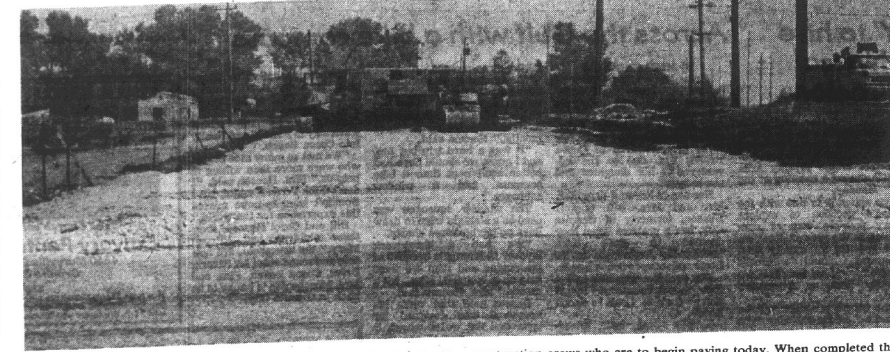

The local scuba divers received a call to assist the Edwardsville police and fire departments at 11:50 p.m. Sunday.

Responding were Dee Adams, Edward Duffin, Don Digrolamo, Rich Grizzard, Bill Hodshire, Kent Speers and Mickey Weiss.

They found the body of Dean Rizzie in about 30 feet of water at 1:25 a.m. Monday, but another two hours were required to get the youth from the water due to the number of obstacles and the steep sides of the pit.

Dee Adams, speaking for the local BURT divers, said the youth had come with five friends to the shale pit to celebrate his 17th birthday. He apparently was only six feet from the peninsula in the southwestern corner of the pit when he went beneath the surface without a struggle.

The youth had complained of County ok's insurance bid

The Madison County Board Wednesday accepted a revised bid for insurance coverage for Madison County after annual premiums had been reduced by $92,000 by the only bidder.

The board accepted at $224,000 bid for the insurance package from the Wightman Agency of St. Louis, the same company which cancelled the county's workman compensation coverage earlier this year.

Action on the insurance purchase was taken on recommendation of the County Board's Central Services Committee which decided in a meeting Tuesday to recommend acceptance of the lone bid.

Originally the insurance firm bid $316,000 on the county's insurance requirements, but cut this cost by alternate offers in two areas.

The new figure compares with about $120,000 in premiums the county paid for comparable coverage under its present policies which expire Friday.

The committee recommendation that the county accept the proposal drew criticism from two board members.

Blood drive July 28

High school students, in cooperation with the Missouri-Illinois Regional Red Cross Blood Program, will carry out six blood drives during the summer.

Three are planned in July, and three in August:

July 26—North County Tech, 1700 Derhake, Florissant.

July 27—St. Mary's High School, 4701 S. Grand, St. Louis.

July 28—Granite City High North, 4950 Maryville Road.

Aug. 8—Bishop DuBourg, 5850 Elcheberger, St. Louis.

Aug. 9—South County Tech, 1721 West Watson Road, Sunset Hills.

Aug. 10—John F. Kennedy, 500 Woods Mill Road, Manchester.

Donors may walk in and give blood during the hours of 9 a.m. till 2 p.m. at any of the locations. Or, to cut down waiting time, an appointment may be made by calling 658-2089.

High school students have been involved in every aspect of planning the six special blood drives, including publicity and asking for donors. Some of them will also be volunteering their time to take the processed blood to area hospitals in Red Cross delivery vans.

The Red Cross needs donors especially during the summer months, when regular donations decrease. Vacations take donors out of town, and hot weather keeps them indoors, but hospitals still need blood for patient care. The Red Cross must find 750 donors each day to meet the demands of the region it supplies.

To keep the supply flowing, all healthy individuals between the ages of 17 and 66 are being urged to roll up their sleeves and help the Red Cross through its "summer drought."

More U.S. funds for GC police-jail unit

Granite City has received an additional federal grant of $74,000 to supplement a $670,000 Public Works Act allocation for construction of a new police station and jail, Mayor Paul Schuler announced Tuesday.

Schuler said he has not yet learned the source of the additional money. He said he received a telephone call from the office of Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) notifying him the money would be made available.

The mayor said the money could be either from the Public Works Act program, or from the Civil Defense Department. Applications for Civil Defense funds had been made because the new police-jail complex would include new quarters for the Granite City Civil Defense organization.

The additional funds will bring to $744,000 the total amount of federal aid available. Since the city has planned a building that will cost approximately $792,000, "We have only about $50,000 to raise in local funding," the mayor commented.

In Memoriam 33
In sad, but loving memory of Our Dear Mother, ETHEL M. FRY who passed away July 24, 1977. Time moves on, ten years have passed. Since death, its' gloom, its' shadows cast. Within our homes where all seemed to be, was a shining light. Was taken from us a shining light. We miss that guiding light, and ever will. Her vacant place, there's none can fill. We mourn for you but not in vain. God grant that some day, we will meet again. Sadly missed by Your children, Gladys, Addy, Paul, Ralph, Skeets, Richard, Grandchildren, and all who knew her. 33 721

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
In Loving Memory of MERTICE WALLACE who passed away July 20, 1977. God took your hand, We had to part, It eased your pain, but broke our hearts. Treasure our mom in your garden of rest. For on this earth, she was one of the best. Guard our dear mom, We leave her alone Love mom dear Lord As we did at home. Sadly missed by Bob, Carol, Jack, Candee and Penny 33 721

In Loving Memory of WILLIAM G. SMITH who passed away 3 years ago July 22, 1974. God gave us strength to face it, God courage to face the blow. But what it meant to lose him, No one will ever know. Gone but not forgotten. Sadly missed and loved by Wife, Daughter, Sons, Daughters-in-Law and Granddaughter. 33 721

The Family of ELLIS MATTHEWS wishes to express our deepest appreciation and heartfelt messages of sympathy during the loss of our loved one, THELMA MATTHEWS. Special thanks to the pallbearers, organist, soloist, Reverend Eugene Beasley, The Friendly Circle Class and Mercer Funeral Home. 33 721

In Loving Memory of GERALDINE MCGOVERN who passed away three years ago July 23, 1974. Memories one like threads of gold. They never tarnish, or grow old. To have to love, and then to part. Is the greatest sorrow of our hearts. The years may wipe out, many things But this we hope will never. The memories of those happy days. When we were all together. Not a day do we forget her. In our hearts she's always near. Sadly missed by Husband, Son, Daughters and Grand-Son and Mother and Dad and all those that Loved Her. 33 721

Public Notice

Notice of Proposed Change in Schedule

To Patrons of Illinois Power Company

The Illinois Power Company hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission proposed changes in its industrial service classifications, for electric service which apply in all communities and areas served by it. The changes in electric service classification involve amendments to the language included in Service Classifications 21 (Large Power Service), 24 (Annual Load Factor Large Power Service), and 30 (Interruptible Power Service). The changes in Service Classifications 21, 24 and 30 permit the customer to reduce the contract capacity at the end of the primary term or during any extended term upon prior written notice of not less than 12 months to the Company. The change in Service Classification 30 permits the electric customer or the Company to terminate a service contract at the end of the primary term or during any extended term on not less than 12 months prior written notice, changes in schedules may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of the Company.

All parties interested in this matter may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Springfield, Illinois 62206.

77-215 and to All Whom It May Concern:

Take notice that on the 13th day of July, 1977 a petition was filed under the Juvenile Court Act by State's Attorney in the Circuit Court of Madison County, Illinois, in the interest of Walter D. Sweet, a minor, and that Circuit Courtroom at Edwardsville on the 10th day of August at the hour of 2:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as this cause may be heard, an adjudicatory hearing will be held upon the petition to have the child declared to be a ward of the court under that Act. The court has authority in this proceeding to take from you the custody and guardianship of the minor, and to appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption of the minor.

Now, unless you appear at the hearing and show cause against the petition, the petition may be taken for confessed as against you and each of you, and an order, judgment or decree entered.

Wilkins says a national health service could be disastrous

There is a clear drift toward a national health service, the Illinois State Medical Society is convinced. In April it voted to oppose "compulsory, governmentally-mandated national health insurance plans."

Because Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr. of Granite City is the 1977-78 president of the ISMS, there is added interest here in the state group's activities and views. Elsewhere in today's issue appears a detailed statement by President Wilkins on the subject of "Government-Controlled Medicine: Cure-All or Health Hazard?"

The article provides much food for thought because it attempts to outline facts and probabilities associated with the trend toward an ever-bigger federal role in provision of medical services.

From a humanitarian standpoint, many of the U.S. programs and promises make a lot of sense. Aspects which include medical assistance for the aged, dating from 1960; Medicare and Medicaid, 1965; early and periodic screening diagnosis and treatment programs, 1967; professional standards review organizations (PSRO), 1972; and the National Health Planning and Resources Development Act, 1975. The Illinois Medical Society sees proposed government-controlled national health insurance as ultimately leading to a national health service.

Dr. Wilkins cites abuses in some government health programs in the United States and notes that in Great Britain socialist "free" medicine has brought four-year waits for elective surgery; long hospital admittance waiting lists even for unconscious patients; inability of 45 per cent of those seeking treatment to even obtain a preliminary examination; and tragic deteriorations in health facilities and in the development of new health technology.

Well-meaning health proposals merit serious consideration, but part of the serious study of future national health insurance or service legislation must include the "track record" of government-in-medicine, here and in Britain.

Initial Madison Council vote—right or wrong—was too hasty

Most governmental bodies find it necessary to restrict participation by citizens during official discussions by the governing boards, lest delays prevent effective decision-making. While we understand this, we wonder whether some alternatives couldn't have been found in the deliberations over whether to permit a new marble industry to locate in Madison.

On the night of June 28, a two-hour Zoning Board meeting preceded a City Council session. The issue of whether to grant special permission for the industry drew opposite conclusions: the Zoning Board voted unanimously against a permit, and the more powerful City Council then decided unanimously to authorize a permit.

Citizens present at the aldermanic session had not obtained advance permission to speak, and were denied the opportunity. Public opposition to the project continued and the City Council reversed itself July 12, blocking the marble firm from going into business on Edwardsville Road. We don't know who was right; some felt the firm would have been an asset and others feared environmental damage.

The fast-moving nature of the events was such that authority could appropriately have been given for a neighborhood spokesman to address the Council, or the aldermen's response could have been delayed until the next meeting.

By that time, a spokesman would have been able to submit the request to speak, and the City Council would have had a chance for something more than the brief formal report of the Zoning Board. Two aldermen had attended the zoning hearing for only a short time, so the City Council by voting the same evening was acting without benefit of full knowledge of the hearing.

It also seems unsuitable for the alderman whose mother-in-law owns the building in question to have taken a leading role in debate and voting on the topic, and also to have done so initially, without mentioning the relationship.

Nuclear power needed to avert serious energy shortages

Now that the latest New York City power blackout has focused attention on the inadequacy of some electric power supplies—worsened by long delays in approving Illinois Power Company and other nuclear power projects—additional interest is being drawn to a talk heard this summer by the nation's steel leaders.

A former administrator of the U. S. Energy Research and Development Administration, Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., warned that nuclear energy isn't a "last resort," and that it must be used extensively to avoid future serious energy shortages.

Discussing near and long-term energy scenarios facing the nation, he said, "We must press forward with development of all possible alternatives to oil and gas. We must realize that nuclear power is not a 'last resort,' but rather a well-developed technology that must be used extensively."

He is proposing a public-private partnership to bring new technologies into the marketplace and use quickly and reduce steelmakers' reliance on natural gas and petroleum, particularly in three areas:

1. The steel industry's transition from natural gas as a fuel for producing taconite pellets.
2. Improving current coal-gasification processes to produce fuel for use in steel processing.
3. Experimenting with coal-oil slurries to reduce the steel industry consumption of petroleum.

Democrats want Dixon to run for same office

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — A number of Democrats are encouraging Secretary of State Alan Dixon to seek re-election next year.

Instead of challenging Gov. James Thompson, they want Dixon to seek re-election because they think he is a cinch to win by a large margin.

By seeking re-election, they reason, he will be able to break up what might otherwise be a large number of straight Republican ballots.

Democrats concede in private conversations that they will have a tough time beating Thompson, U.S. Sen. Charles Percy and Atty. Gen. William Scott.

However, many Democrats think they can salvage the rest of their ticket if Dixon goes for secretary of state again.

With voters becoming more independent of either political party, Dixon would give independents and some Republicans a good excuse to cross over and vote in the Democratic column, they believe.

Then once the voters are looking for specific names on the ballot, the Democrats think they have an even chance of winning the two state offices—treasurer and comptroller—and even a majority in the legislature, and winning their share of county offices.

In the absence of a strong Democratic candidate, some Democrats fear a Republican landslide, Dixon, they reason, would not be strong enough as a gubernatorial candidate to prevent such a landslide.

The fear of a Republican landslide is expressed most often by Democrats who now hold office in marginal districts and counties. For these voters, they want Dixon to stay as the secretary of state.

The development is especially interesting considering the fact that these same Democrats two years ago forced a popular secretary of state into running for governor.

In the last election, as you recall, Michael Howlett, then a popular secretary of state, said he intended to seek re-election.

Many Democrats, downstate as well as the late Mayor Daley, encouraged Howlett to challenge then-Gov. Dan Walker.

Although Dixon had already formally declared his candidacy for governor, Howlett jumped into the race. Of course, he best Walker, but was clobbered in the general election by Thompson.

Dixon meanwhile settled for secretary of state. He's now in a similar position Howlett was two years ago, and the Democrats are staging a different tune.

FOOTNOTE: House Speaker William Redmond, Percy, Thompson and Scott are overrated as candidates.

Postmaster

Send it to dead letter office . . .

By RICHARD L. LESHNER

President

U.S. Chamber of Commerce

A special postal rate for individuals? When that idea was announced, I immediately imagined myself trying to convince an unsympathetic stamp vending machine that I really wanted a stamp for private mail business—purposes.

Fortunately, President Carter and Postmaster General Bailar propose to exercise control downstream of the stamp machine. But even so, the plan has some serious flaws.

The way it is envisioned by the Postmaster General, the first class rate for business letters will rise to 16 cents, while the rate for individuals would remain at 13 cents.

To qualify for the lower "citizen rate," a letter would have to have a hand-written address or return address. Mr. Bailar indicated that no special measures would be taken to prevent cheating, unless it became widespread.

I don't have any problem with this proposal. To hold down the cost of a major governmental service. That's a fine idea.

But the Carter-Bailar method is likely to have exactly the reverse effect, for two reasons.

First, a steep increase in the business rate will give businesses an added incentive to avoid using the Postal Service. Some utilities are already delivering their bills themselves, and various private delivery services—which are forbidden by law to use mail boxes—have shown an increasing ability to undercut Postal Service charges while providing the same or better service.

Like most utilities, the Postal Service needs its big-volume customers to help pay the costs of serving the less-profitable small user.

What is the answer to the over-high postal rates?

In the short run, it might help if we didn't demand costly luxuries—such as local post offices everywhere—that have an importance more symbolic than practical.

In the longer run, some form of electronic transmission for the bulk of the first class mail may be the answer. Or perhaps we should encourage private competition with the Postal Service, rather than passing laws against it.

In an odd, the split-rate proposal belongs in the dead letter office.

If escalating rates increase drive away too many business users, rates will have to be raised (or heavily subsidized) for the remaining—individual—customers. So, the "citizen rate" probably wouldn't last long, even if it were adopted.

My second objection to the proposal is that it is deceptive. Politicians like to pretend that by increasing taxes or other charges on business they can "save" the individual citizen from having to pay anything.

This approach cropped up most recently in the Administration's plan to raise Social Security taxes for the employer but not the employee. In reality, however, all that such schemes accomplish is to hide from the consumer the true costs of various services.

All in all, it is the consumer who pays the bill. The only thing that varies is the method of collection.

Competitive pressure is what holds down prices. But when all competing businesses undergo the same cost increase at the same time—as would be the case with a rise in postal rates—then they usually feel free to pass the increase along to their customers, in the form of a price increase. That, after all, is exactly what the Postal Service itself is doing when it asks for higher rates.

What is the answer to the over-high postal rates?

Courts trying to overrule God?

To the Editor:

There is a sad tale to tell—a tale of taxes and abortion, and of a couple of Illinois senators.

Before we were born, whenever that was, we were nine months with our mothers. Then one day it was "Hello, World!" We arrived.

I'm glad I was born years ago. The kids of today can't be sure of that.

For the mamas of today are all as they used to be. Twenty-five per cent of them, when they find out they are pregnant, say "Hey, I didn't want this kid."

You know how things are. Abortion is here. The Supreme Court overruled God. America has killed five million babies.

We have a bureau in Washington: Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). We give money to the poor. We've paid it for years. Tax money. We've done that for years. Tax money.

Suddenly, we find out our tax money has been paying for abortions, too, to the tune of $50 million per year for the killing of 300,000 babies.

Everybody pays taxes. Since part of our tax money goes for abortions, every taxpayer has a piece of the slaughter.

So, I want no part in murder.

Henry Hyde is an Illinois representative in Washington. Last year, he worked a "miracle." He got an amendment through the House and Senate that our taxes were not to go for abortions.

But there was a guy in Brooklyn, John Dooling, a "Uncon-bited judge, who said, "Unconstitutional." We paid to kill 300,000 more babies this past year because of this one guy.

Hyde is again working his bill through Congress. And by now our Supreme Court has amazed us! It has said we don't have to pay to kill other people's kids!

We have senators in Washington: Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson.

Guess what? These two have been voting against Henry Hyde's amendment every blessed time.

FATHER EDWIN ARENTSEN, Pastor Holy Cross Church, Wendelin, Ill.

Glad her senator opposes amendment

To the Editor:

Thanks to Senator Sam Vadalabene for being a friend to the Women of Illinois by voting against ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment.

Even though more than 55 per cent of Illinois citizens are women, not all are in favor of the ERA.

Women's "libbers" have made me more aware of the important part I play as a working mother, wife, homemaker, and member of "Stop ERA."

I am proud to support Sen. Vadalabene and I do not consider myself a second-class citizen.

MRS. HENRY THOMAS 612 English Place, Mitchell

Redmond's re-election unlikely

By AL MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — Many political observers do not expect William Redmond to be elected to another term as Speaker of the Illinois House of Representatives.

There are three reasons for this opinion:

(1) When his current term expires, he will be 70 years old with 20 years served in the legislature. That would be a logical time to retire because he would be able to receive a maximum pension benefit.

(2) Strong opposition to his leadership has developed because of his support of business in the dispute over workmen's compensation.

(3) Democrats can't wait to retain control of the House.

During an interview in his office, the speaker was asked whether he will seek re-election from his DuPage County district.

"Who knows?" the speaker said. "The tragedy of the whole thing is that I have to leave the legislature so early."

He said he would leave a September or August primary.

"Perhaps tragedy is too violent a word, but one of the problems during the last session was that when four of us left, the Speaker had to commit himself early. At the end of the session they had the thrust of a wet noodle."

If he does seek re-election, he plans to run again for speaker.

"It's no secret that I like the legislature and government."

"Nobody out there works any longer or harder than I do and it's taken me a visible toll on me. I've always been active—I'm chairman for my party, too (DuPage County) and have enjoyed every minute of it."

But the political facts are these: labor leaders are furious; Democrats are angry; support them on a crucial vote on workmen's compensation and it's very unlikely they could ever support him again for speaker.

Redmond, as you recall, dated his compromise candidate in a historic battle which took 93 ballots to elect a speaker.

The legislator put it this way: "Of all 177 members, I'd vote for him last."

There's apparently going to be another victim in the workmen's compensation mess. Until the vote, Rep. Gerald Bradley, D-Bloomington, had been a prime contender to move up to speaker.

He is in his fifth term and now serves as a whip.

Some Democrats are madder at Bradley than they are at Redmond because Bradley is the one who engineered the anti-labor vote.

One legislator said: "He destroyed himself, absolutely destroyed himself with that one."

There's been another fascinating development in the House: former Rep. Gerald Shea, who served as majority leader, is giving serious consideration to returning to the House.

If Shea is elected again as a representative, he would be expected to be in a leadership position.

There is a problem for Chicago Democrats who aspire to the speakership: Tom Hynes of Chicago is Senate president and traditionally the top two posts have been balanced between Chicago and Downstate. That would complicate matters should Shea, Mike Madigan, the majority leader, or Thad Lechowicz, assistant majority leader, run for speaker.

Rep. Roland Tipword of Taylorville and Rep. John Matjevich of North Chicago are two Democrats who will probably be angling for the top job.

Of course, that's assuming Democrats win a majority of the seats. They've been in control for two terms, but in the past few years they've placed heavy emphasis on winning control and electing a GOP speaker.

Even Democrats concede it's a distinct possibility.

'Abraham Lincoln' comes back in a convincing way

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — Abraham Lincoln left New Salem village, in one sense, well over a century ago.

In another way, he never left—the reconstructed village still manages to suggest that maybe he is just out beyond the barn.

In either case, he has returned in a most convincing way. For the second year, the Great American People Show is presenting "Your obedient servant, A. Lincoln" in the Kelso Hollow theatre.

Since the play utilizes only Lincoln's own words and writings, and since the production has a different pace and flavor which is underscored by minimal props and costumes.

Even the stage itself is an unusual thing of beauty. The audience sits on the floor, and the stage is a platform, which lets the motion flow and involve the audience in the play.

In another way, the play is strengthened by the open air setting which blends the rustle of leaves with the music and the speech and music. The company is young and, according to director John Ahart, blessed with both energy and enthusiasm.

Returning in this second season as Lincoln is Kirk Hard, a young man who bears no resemblance physically to the legends of lanky Lincolns who have ambled and drolled in pseudo-drama for decades. It is at a mid surprise; thereafter, the audience simply sees an emerging, growing, developing Abraham Lincoln.

Like the central character, the play itself is still growing and developing, says Ahart, so that even those who saw it last year will not see quite the same production. It has been shortened by about 10 minutes and Ahart believes it moves better in this production.

The music, which last year was played live by four instruments, this year has been expanded and is presented taped, played by 18 instruments.

Also new this year will be a special program on each Wednesday, when a Shortened Version of "Your obedient servant" will be presented coupled with a social scientists. The talks will precede the performance. A half hour discussion will be held informally following the performance, with performers and the speaker joining the audience for the discussions.

Most of the discussion topics will be linked to present realities. Scheduled subjects will cover such areas as "Lincoln and Nixon," "Lincoln and the Presidency," "Partial Citizenship: Slaves, Women and the ERA," "Lincoln and the Peasants' Revolt," and "The Virgin and the Brew: The Women of the Lincoln Era."

In all, 10 such sessions are scheduled, with the final one on Aug. 24.

The play starts at 8 p.m. nightly except Mondays and runs now through Aug. 27.

Sorting would be more complicated

Press-Record Bureau

Those proposed changes in postal rates apparently were suggested to gain support from everyday American citizens.

Instead, they should raise doubts about the department. The idea is that private mail will continue to go at the 13-cent rate while business mail must pay 16 cents unless sorted in advance.

And how does the Postal Service tell the private from the public?

The envelopes must be of regulation size to fit the machines. Zip codes must be on the address of both the sender and addressee. And one of the latter must be handwritten rather than typed.

It may surprise members of the Postal Service to find out that a lot of people type private letters now.

A lot also use stickers bearing name and address for return addresses.

The latter are not only convenient; they avoid the problem of often illegible handwriting.

But mail with addresses typed is much easier and less time-consuming for postal workers to sort.

Since the new plans won't solve the department's financial problems, any effort to increase postal rates by trying to separate private from business mail will probably only balance out the three-cent addition for some mail. That ordinary citizen will once again pick up the tab.

A far better way to cut expenses would appear to be ending the junk mail low rate and, after that, really only a public subsidy of advertising products in which the recipient may not be remotely interested anyway.

It also adds to the trash that must be cleaned out of post office wasteboxes.

Convention center festival July 24-Aug. 7: local displays and entertainers there July 31

The new St. Louis Gateway Convention and Exhibition Center will open its doors Sunday, July 24, at 11 a.m. with a grand opening of events and exhibits reminiscent of the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair, Robert Hyland, chairman, has announced.

Metropolitan area residents and out-of-town visitors may attend the free "Meet Me in St. Louis" Festival July 24 through Aug. 7, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily.

Granite City will be one of the honored cities on Sunday, July 31.

At 9 a.m., doors will open at the Granite City High School North pep band and pom-pom squad will entertain.

At 1 p.m. there will be introductions and comments by mayors, followed at 2 p.m. by a performance by the St. Louis area Musicians' Union.

Then, at 3:30 p.m. July 31, the Granite City High School South stage band will perform.

After a 4:30 p.m. performance by the St. Louis Musicians' Union, activities will continue until 8 p.m., when the convention center will close.

Mayors' introductions and remarks will be covered by television.

Granite City will have a 50-foot booth. The city exhibit will consist of six 8-foot panels mounted on tables.

Represented on the panels will be the government, industry, schools, churches, parks, surrounding communities, financial agencies and championship sports activities.

Throughout the entire convention center will be display booths of the St. Louis area. Many crafts and foods will be for sale.

The general atmosphere will be one of a gigantic carnival. Ten to fifteen thousand people are expected to fill the hall during the day.

"We hope that members of the Chamber of Commerce and their families will make an effort to be present to see the grand opening at 12 noon and to see Granite City honored," Edward P. Reiter, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, said this week.

Eugene L. Alassi is coordinator of the local Convention Center Display Committee.

St. Louis Mayor James F. Cannon will open the two-week festival at a ceremony on the "Theme and Action" stage in the exhibit hall Sunday at 11 p.m.

This Sunday, July 24, a week before the Granite City program.

He will present special certificates of recognition to St. Charles, Mo., and Alton, Ill., the first of 30 Missouri and Illinois cities to be honored daily at the festival.

All the cities will respond to the festival by bringing displays of their industry, institutions and attractions, as well as their hometown entertainers who will perform at intervals throughout the day.

Civic and youth organizations and well-known visitor attractions also will be saluted daily throughout the 15-day event.

Early visitors each day will be greeted by music from a calypso band, loaned to the convention center festival by the St. Louis Steamers' Admiral.

The calypso, which will be moved in an intricate procedure by helicopter and flatbed truck to the convention center main lobby, will be played by A. J. Aumann, veteran calypso player, as the center opens each morning.

A wide variety of exhibits will be open throughout the facility to festival-goers.

The 160,000 square feet of space will be decorated with white, blue and gold—the official colors of the 1904 World's Fair.

Many exhibitors who were established at the turn-of-the-century will show progress of their products and services through the years.

The Kroger Company, for example, will display a Barney Kroger wagon which was used to deliver groceries in the 1900 era, as well as photos of stores of yesteryear and today.

Farshaw will show antique stoves, buggies and sleighs alongside modern patio furniture and barbecue grills.

Other firms will emphasize the 1970s and the future.

Anheuser-Busch, a company established in the mid-19th century, will have a modular display with back-lighted scenes of products, the St. Louis baseball Cardinals and its many entertainment centers.

Ralston Purina Company will feature a "electronic circus" Tom Carr Florists, which began its business at the Union Market in 1873, will demonstrate flower arranging.

In the center of the exhibition hall, visitors can see the one robbery case, down one from two robberies occurring in June 1976.

The number of burglary cases—a total of 48 last month—was a drop of 13 from the 61 occurring in the same month of 1975.

Through the courtesy of the Musicians Association of St. Louis, Local 2197, professional musicians will perform each day.

In addition, talented young performers from the St. Louis area have been selected by auditions including singers, dancers, mime, small combos and comedians.

Richard Hayman, conductor of the St. Louis County Pops Orchestra, and Donald O'Connor, a star of stage, movies and television who will be appearing at the Barn Theater, are among the well-known performers who will make appearances during the festival.

Sports celebrities also will greet visitors and give autographs.

Among them will be Cardinal baseball players Mike Anderson, Bob Forsch, Roger Freed, Al Hrabosky, Ted Simmons and John Urra and Coach Sonny Ryubert, who will appear July 28; soccer stars Denny Vaninger, Bob O'Leary, John Stremela and Denny Borkes on Aug. 1; and former football Cardinals players Bob Rowe and Ernie McMillan.

Convention Center Room 120 on the main level will house a display of interest to history buffs.

The nostalgia of the St. Louis World's Fair will be captured in the posters and souvenirs, provided by the Museum of Science and Natural History and by Robert W. Murch, St. Louis collector of 1904 Fair artifacts.

On the second level lobby, an inaugural art exhibit of 40 works by 20 contemporary Missouri artists will be displayed. The art show is sponsored by the Missouri Arts Council and Downtown St. Louis.

Free tours of the convention center for groups of ten or more persons will be available at half-hour intervals daily, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Persons desiring to join a tour are to report to the St. Louis Ambassadors' Information Center in the main lobby.

The center also will have brochures concerning the convention center facility and outstanding St. Louis area attractions.

Missouri and Illinois cities which will be honored the first week of the festival include: July 25, Joplin, Mo., and Hillsboro, Ill.; July 26, Perryville, Mo., and Chester, Ill.; July 27, Columbia, Mo., and O'Fallon, Ill.; July 28, Sedalia, Mo., and Pittsfield, Ill.; July 29, Carthage, Mo., and Mt. Vernon, Ill.; July 30, Ste. Genevieve, Mo., and Belleville, Ill.; and July 31, Poplar Bluff, Mo., and Granite City, Ill.

Youth and civic organizations and visitor attractions to be saluted during the first week are: July 26, Boy Scouts of America, Local Council and the Advertising Club of Greater St. Louis; July 27, Camp Fire Girls and Women's Advertising Club; July 28, B'nai B'rith Youth Organization; July 29, Herbert Hoover Boys' Club and Landmarks Association of St. Louis; July 30, St. Louis Zoo; and July 31, St. Louis Art Museum.

Charges during the same period last year.

Domestic steel shipments high

Domestic steel shipments topped eight million tons for the second time this year in May, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute (AISI).

This country's steelmakers shipped their customers 8,369,000 tons of finished mill products during the month.

That was 386,000 tons more than April's shipments of 7,981,000 tons, and 154,000 tons more than the 8,215,000 tons in May of last year.

Through the first five months of this year, domestic steel shipments reached 38,431,000 tons. This compares with the 38,211,000 tons shipped during the same period of 1976.

A breakdown of January-May 1977 steel shipments by markets and grades, in tons, follows: Automotive, 3,320,000; service centers, 6,271,000; construction and contractors' products, 4,821,000; machinery, industrial and electrical equipment, 3,465,000; containers and packaging, 3,030,000; and all other markets, 11,524,000.

Unbending rules on enforcement grants assailed

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

The beleaguered Law Enforcement Assistance Administration's effectiveness is threatened by proposals from Atty. Gen. Griffin Bell's study group, believes Rep. Robert McClell, R-Ill. 10th Dist.

Bell is considering recommendations to change the way nearly $700 million in federal funds for criminal justice are used and disbursed among the states and local governments.

McClell, ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, fears the proposals would mean that state and local law enforcement agencies would be using nationally designed programs which might not fit their areas.

Under the current system, state agencies submit to the LEAA what are supposed to be comprehensive statewide justice plans. Although the LEAA budget is only about five percent of the amount spent on criminal justice by state and local governments, the plans are supposed to detail how the states and local governments will spend their own funds as well as the federal funds.

The group concluded that the current system encourages states and local governments to concentrate on qualifying for federal funds, rather than on trying effective programs.

It also decided state planning agencies are having little impact on the use of state and local criminal justice funds.

The recommendations were low-fold. LEAA's research institute would be converted into a center for developing, testing, demonstrating and evaluating national programs.

The block grants funding would be abandoned in favor of direct assistance.

States and local governments would "buy into" programs developed by the national center, using federal matching funds.

"I'm fearful that the recommendations for research, when coupled with the funding provisions, could provide for much greater centralized bureaucracy in Washington which I think would be detrimental," McClell said.

"Funding would be for projects developed by the research institute and only funded if they fit that pattern."

The problem is that a crime-fighting program that works in the inner city of Chicago might not work in Detroit or Los Angeles, McClell said.

He's also concerned that the group's report may dampen a drive to restore funds cut earlier from the LEAA budget that could cost Illinois several million dollars.

The LEAA budget proposed by the Administration—and President Carter is one of the agency's sharpest critics—is $704 million, including $20,000,000 for Illinois.

The house cut that figure to $600 million, reducing Illinois' share to $15.5 million.

House and Senate conferees have agreed to boost the LEAA total to $647.25 million, placing Illinois' share somewhere between $15.5 million and $20 million.

But the conference committee reports haven't been approved by either the House or Senate.

"I can't help but feel that the report and the recommendations are going to have a cooling effect of the effort to restore the LEAA funds," said the Lake Bluff Republican.

"It will provide ammunition for those who want to eliminate the LEAA or hold it down."

Another problem wrought by the report is that it adds to the confusion about LEAA's future.

Uncertainty already is significant, Mr. Carter said in the campaign he would abolish the LEAA but be modified that the report is that it adds to the confusion about LEAA's future.

This gives planners of long-range programs cause to ponder how long they can expect federal help, how much, and what form it will take.

McClell believes the federal dollars will continue to go to the states at the reduced level but under the same system in 1978. But he cautions that even this isn't certain.

He doesn't claim the LEAA can't stand improvement. But McClell feels a more sensible alternative would be increased monitoring and evaluation of local programs as recommended by a Judiciary subcommittee.

"What really astounds me is that we held public hearings for weeks to review the LEAA, and that work would be brushed aside for a study by seven members of a task force which didn't hold a single public hearing," McClell said.

GC crime shows 19% drop

Major crime cases in Granite City during June declined by 60, or 19 percent, below those of the same month a year ago, according to a report released by Ronald Veizer, chief of police.

A total of 253 crimes in eight major categories was reported during the month, compared with 313 cases in the same categories during June 1976.

In addition, the report noted, Granite City police solved 83 of 147 other cases during June, compared to 147 other cases during June, compared to a total of 65 cases cleared in June 1976, along with 122 other cases.

These made a total of 147 cases cleared last month, up 24 cases over those cleared during the same month a year ago.

The only category in which local crimes showed an increase last month was in assault cases, with a total of 27 during June, compared with 20 such cases in the same month a year ago.

There was one forcible rape case during the month, the same as in June 1976, and only one robbery case, down one from two robberies occurring in June 1976.

A total of 48 last month—was a drop of 13 from the 61 occurring in the same month of 1975.

Sue A. Jackson becomes Mrs. Robin E. Bucklin

Former Granite City residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Jackson, now residing at 107 Second St., Huachuca City, Ariz., are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sue Ann Jackson and Army Specialist Four Robin Eugene Bucklin, on June 3, at the First Church of the Nazarene, Sierra Vista, Ariz. Parents of the groom are the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Bucklin of Oakes, N.D.

Bouquets of daisies, roses and carnations provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7 p.m. by the Rev. David L. Mesarosh.

A brother-in-law of the bride, the Rev. Ben Greene sang, "A Wedding Vow" and "O Perfect Love" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Nola Pearson.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length white lace gown fashioned with an Empire bodice, high lace collar, long sleeves and chapel train.

She wore a white lace cathedral length veil and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses, daisies and carnations.

Mrs. Sherry Greene, a sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Carol Schwierjohn, Debbie Honnas and Marilyn King.

They wore identical pastel blue formal length dresses complemented with blue voile jackets embellished with white daisies.

Each attendant held a bouquet of yellow and white daisies.

Richie Jackson, the bride's brother, served as the ringbearer.

Wally Buckman attended the groom as best man. Mike Rust, Rich Evans and Phil Jackson, a brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

A reception was held in Sierra Vista after the ceremony.

The newlyweds are residing in Huachuca City following a wedding trip to North Dakota.

The bride graduated as a registered nurse from Cochise College this year and is employed at the Benson Hospital. She also graduated in 1974 from the Tombstone High School.

Speer Bucklin was graduated from Mora High School, Mora, Minn., in 1974, and is now serving with the U.S. Army.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Miss Schwierjohn, Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jackson, Edwards, Ariz., the Rev. and Mrs. Randy Maxwell, Camden, Ark., the Rev. and Mrs. Ben Greene, Cedarville, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Maxwell, Paragould, Ark.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Elma Jackson of Granite City.

Clemons reunion Aug. 6

Plans are being completed for the third annual Clemons family and friends reunion, scheduled the weekend of Friday, Aug. 5 to Sunday, Aug. 7, in Cleveland, Ohio, local family members reported this week.

Arrangements have been made for a charter bus to transport area residents to Cleveland, but reservations must be made and bus fees received by Friday, Mrs. Helen R. King, 1101 Market St., Venice, said.

More than 400 descendants of the late Squire P. and Parthenia Clemons attended the 1975 and the 1976 reunions held at the Venice Recreation Center. The Rev. Burton D. Clemons of Cleveland, a former resident of Brooklyn (Lovejoy), Ill., is in charge of this year's reunion.

An ordained minister in the Church of God in Christ in Cleveland, with over 300 parishioners, the Rev. Clemons also is a successful car dealer and a family counselor there.

Mrs. King said.

Reunion plans call for a cruise on Lake Erie and a buffet luncheon. Gifts will be presented to many of those in attendance, according to Mrs. King, a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clemons.

The chartered bus will depart at 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 5, from Madison and will leave Cleveland to return here at 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 7.

Additional information also is available by calling Mrs. King at 451-2222, Mrs. Juanita Clemons, 145 N. 6th St., Brooklyn, Ill., 274-0927, or Mrs. Evelyn Clemons Washburn, 607 N. Woodstock Ave., Venice, 877-4393.

Pomatto family reunion in GC

The families of the late Simon and Marianna Pomatto of Livingston, Ill., held a reunion during the weekend at Wilson Park.

The 1977 summertime get-together was hosted by the Andy Rehlek and Lonnie Oliver families of Granite City.

There were 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren at this year's reunion.

It was decided by those attending to hold next summer's reunion on June 11, with the families of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pomatto of Wilsonville, Ill., as the hosts.

Granite Cityans present were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rehlek, Joe Rehlek and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Oliver and children, Marianna, Joey and Dianne.

Other family members were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pomatto and Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pomatto and sons, Darin and Mark, all of Wilsonville; Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Buckner and children, Brian, Brad and Kim, of Gillespie.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pomatto and children, Simon, Annette and David, of Mount Olive; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Pomatto of Livingston; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pomatto and sons, Jim, Mike and Steve, of Alton; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pomatto and daughter, Giovanna, of Springfield.

Guests included Mrs. Sophia Bero and Mrs. Carmen Breckner, both of Granite City.

Matthew 8:21 "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord shall enter into the kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven."

Jesus spoke these words to the most religious group of people on the face of this earth. The Pharisees and the Sadducees. It was them who said they finally decided to crucify Him.

After all, the very ideal of anyone who has church membership, owns a Bible, and has never committed murder or theft, not being able to enter into heaven has got to be mistaken. Right? Wrong?

Jesus said He that doeth the will of my Father shall enter in.

The first order of Gods will is that you accept His Son as your Saviour, that you confess Him before men, that you do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

Do His will. Today.

MR. AND MRS. CLAUDE BILBREY

Mr., Mrs. Claude Bilbrey to mark 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bilbrey, 638 Lincoln Ave., Venice, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at a reception Saturday, July 30, at the Croatian Hall, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, to be hosted by their sons and daughters-in-law.

The couple will renew their wedding vows at 5 p.m. mass at St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church, followed by the reception.

Mr. Bilbrey, a native of Williamsville, Mo., and his wife, the former Vickie Caruso, a lifelong resident of Venice, were married on July 30, 1927, at St. Mark's Catholic Church. They have resided in Venice since their marriage.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bilbrey are members of St. Mark's Church, the Venice and Madison Senior Citizen Clubs and Mr. Bilbrey also belongs to the Holy Name Society at the church. His wife belongs to the Altar Society.

Mr. Bilbrey was employed for 18 years for the Illinois Terminal Railroad and later served as an 11-year employee as collector at the McKinley Bridge. He retired in 1969.

Mrs. Bilbrey retired in 1970 after working for over 13 years at Famous Barr & Co., St. Louis.

They are the parents of three sons, Charles Bilbrey, 616 Lincoln Ave., Venice, Claude Bilbrey, 405 E. North St., Venice, and Larry Bilbrey, 515 Filmore Ave., Venice. They also have 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Gospel Mission service tonight

The Rev. Everett Hopkins of Glen Carbon Baptist Church will be the guest speaker at 7 o'clock tonight at the Gospel Mission, 2014 E. 20th St.

Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, Mission superintendent, said area residents are invited to attend all services at the church. Ample parking facilities are available at the rear of the building.

At Sunday evening's service, also starting at 7 o'clock, the Rev. John Pithers of First Assembly of God Church will be the speaker.

Church school classes commence at 9 a.m. Sunday. Mrs. Davis said the Gospel Mission will be in charge of services at the Sunshine Mission, St. Louis, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 27. The group will depart from the mission here at 6:30 p.m.
